

INCREASES IN ASSISTANCE ARE REPORTED HERE

Increases in assistance rolls over a month ago and a year ago were noted at the March meeting of the Adams County Board of Assistance Wednesday evening.

Indications were seen that more of the larger families of the county have come to the Public Assistance board to have their income supplemented. There are four more cases on the rolls now than a month ago, but the total number of persons involved is only one more than last month. In the last year the net increase in cases is seven but the total number of persons receiving assistance is up 26.

Figures given by Mrs. Verna H. Myers, executive director, showed there were 561 cases involving 1,016 persons on the lists a month ago. The current figures are 565 cases and 1,017 persons and a year ago the totals were 558 cases and 921 persons.

Discuss Pending Legislation
With the Rev. A. W. Geigley, chairman of the board, presiding, the group spent much of the evening discussing legislation pending in the Legislature that would or could affect the public assistance program. Most of the bills now are in committee and no position was taken on them by the board.

Bills affecting blind pensions, residence requirements for eligibility for assistance, staff personnel, reimbursement in relief cases where real estate is owned by the recipient, the liability of relatives of children removed from their homes by the court and a measure which would remove compulsory retirement requirements were discussed.

SA CAMPAIGN LEADERS LISTED

Campaign plans for the Gettysburg portion of the county-wide drive for $3,500 to be conducted by the Salvation Army were announced today by James L. Gardner, field representative.

The two-week appeal will begin April 12 and Gettysburg has been allotted a quota of $2,000 for the campaign. The money raised locally is to be used by the local Service Unit to provide such services as meals, transportation and lodging for persons stranded here without funds.

A portion of the fund also goes toward similar work throughout the nation.

G. Marion Stambaugh, Gettysburg chairman, has selected the following sub-chairman, Gardner said: Dr. Lloyd C. Keefeauver, clubs and associations; Attorney Charles W. Wolf, professional groups; George N. Coshun, industries; Mrs. Lawrence M. Sheads, retail merchants.

Mrs. Roy Hammond, residential chairman for Gettysburg, is to be assisted by the following captains: Mrs. G. Marion Stambaugh, Mrs. Philip Neth, Mrs. Herman Frasch and Mrs. Harold Sharpe.

The captains for the residential drive, and the other committee heads, are now selecting their teams and committees, it was announced, in anticipation of a door-to-door solicitation to be carried on as part of the fund raising campaign.

GHS Class Of '35 Is Planning Reunion

Plans for the 20th reunion of the Class of 1935 of Gettysburg High School were formulated at a meeting of the committee Wednesday evening at the engine house.

A reunion for all class members, their husbands, wives and guests, will be held following the annual alumni dinner at the American Legion, along with the class of 1930.

Mrs. Eugene Martin, the former Martha Larsen, who was adviser for the Class of 1935, will be invited to attend. Other highlights of the meeting will include awards for a variety of subjects, such as the class member coming the longest distance to attend, the class member with the most children, etc.

An orchestra may be secured by the two classes to provide music for dancing. The cost of the reunion is not expected to exceed 75 cents per person attending.

SUIT FOR $94 FILED

A suit for $94 damages has been started in common pleas court, York, by Rosa Wilt, of Bismont, who said her property was damaged by a careening automobile Dec. 13, 1953.

In a statement filed by her attorney, the woman says an auto driven by Joseph Brown, East Berlin R. 1, collided with another car and then careened onto her property, damaging a wall, shrubbery and her home.

Order Placed For Alumni Gift Piano

The order was placed today for the grand piano the Gettysburg High School Alumni Association is presenting to the high school for use on the stage of its new 1,500-seat auditorium.

The selection of the instrument was made Wednesday evening at a meeting of a special committee appointed by Mrs. Edith F. Baker, president of the Alumni association, and headed by Jay Schmitt. Delivery is expected in about 30 days.

The piano is to be paid for by donations from graduates of the local high school. Mrs. Baker said more than $500 is needed in the piano fund to complete payment. Grads recently were solicited by mail for contributions to the piano fund. Donations should be sent to Richard Folkenroth, 265 E. Lincoln Ave., treasurer of the Alumni Association.

FIREMEN OFFER TO CHECK HOMES FOR FIRE PERILS

Gettysburg Fire Chief Donald G. McSherry today offered the services of the local firemen to anyone who wishes to have his home checked for fire hazards or who wishes instruction in "fire free housekeeping."

McSherry made the offer in connection with the annual "Clean-Up, Paint-Up, Fix-Up Week" to be held in May. But he said the firemen stand ready at any time to give whatever service they can, or do whatever they can to help the community and the individual. As firemen we feel our primary duty is to seek to prevent fires before they start. That effects greater savings for the community and the individual than putting fires out after they start.

Jointly Sponsored

The fire department, McSherry said, will join with the Board of Health and the Junior Chamber of Commerce in the annual Clean-Up Week campaign to be held early in May.

"The clean-up week however in a sense represents the end of the work rather than the beginning. It is during clean-up week that the borough removes all trash and debris placed in the alleys. But if the debris is to be there in May, the work of cleaning out the house must take place earlier.

"Thus we make our offer now, so that anyone wishing the services of a fireman to look over his place during, or after, cleaning can call at any time. We feel that because of our training we can make many suggestions that will help householders to have a home in which there will be much less danger of fire."

W. REISINGER IS FOUND DEAD

An Ickesburg man, reported missing by his housekeeper Wednesday afternoon, was found dead in a field near his home by a hastily organized searching party shortly after nightfall.

Walter Reisinger, 77, a native of Perry County, went for a stroll about mid-afternoon, according to his housekeeper, Mrs. Emma Keller. When he hadn't returned at supertime, she notified Ickesburg firemen and fire police, who searched the area for nearly an hour before locating the man's body.

Sheriff Maynard Carmichael of New Bloomfield, who is also deputy coroner, gave the cause of death as coronary thrombosis.

Reisinger owned and operated the community's general store for many years, having retired 10 years ago. His wife, Ellen Shull Reisinger, died in 1929.

He is survived by three sons, the Rev. D. K. Reisinger, pastor of the Bradford United Brethren Church; Leon, a John Harris High School instructor, of Harrisburg, and George, an English professor at Shippensburg State Teachers College, who was formerly a member of the Biglerville High School faculty; one daughter, Mrs. Paul Stum of Lemoyne; five brothers, Elmer, New Bloomfield; Roy, Altoona; Jay, Millerstown; Elliot, Ickesburg, and Ralph, of New Bloomfield, and two sisters, Mrs. Mae Myers, of New Bloomfield, and Mrs. Frank Davis of Ely; also six grandchildren and four great-grandchildren.

He was a member of the Ickesburg Lutheran Church, the Lions Club, fire company, ambulance corps director, and county committeeman of the Keystone Area Council, Boy Scouts of America.

CRASH VICTIM BETTER

MUST HAVE SOIL TESTED TO GET U.S. SUBSIDIES

Adams County farmers seeking federal subsidies for lime purchases again will be compelled to have their soil tested by the county farm agent or Pennsylvania State University, the county Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation office ruled today.

An ASC statement said, "It is the policy of the Agricultural Stabilization Committee of Adams County to require that these lime tests be made by the county agent of Adams County or the Pennsylvania State University. No soil tests coming from other testing laboratories will be accepted."

Last year the county agent's office ran tests on more than 1,800 soil samples in the county when farmers sought federal aid to carry out soil conservation practices in which lime was used.

Test 200 Samples
This year the county agent's office has tested approximately 200 soil samples for farmers who have signed for 1955 practices.

The ASC office also urged farmers to enroll for the 1955 program as soon as possible because, as the ASC said: "Any farmer who desires to use agricultural limestone through this program must first have his farm enrolled in the 1955 program, then he must obtain prior approval of the county committee before starting practices on which he desires cost sharing. Third, he must have the fields upon which he desires to use limestone tested in order to determine whether or not lime is required."

The ASC pointed out that "the sooner application is made, the sooner approval and tests can be made."

Mrs. E. Weigel Is Buried Wednesday

Funeral services for Mrs. Edith Lytle Weigel, late of Aspers R. 1, were held Wednesday afternoon at the Dugan Funeral Home, Bendersville, with Rev. Paul J. Horick, former pastor of the Upper Meridian Lutheran Church, officiating.

The pallbearers were: Dr. F. C. Leppard Jr., Walter Meliot, Guy Deardorff, Harold Emlet, Harry Emlet, Guy Bream, George Guise, and Albert Guise. Interment was in the Upper Meridian Cemetery.

Mrs. Weigel died Sunday in the Hanover Hospital where she had been taken after suffering a broken hip. She was 84.

Glenn C. Bream Is Automotive Head

Glenn C. Bream of Gettysburg Motors Inc. was elected president of the Adams County Automotive Association Wednesday evening at Banker's restaurant here. He succeeds R. L. Crouse Jr., of Littlestown.

Eighteen dealers attended the session and elected L. C. Hamme of Gettysburg as the new secretary-treasurer. John Basehoar of Littlestown is the retiring secretary-treasurer.

Speakers for the meeting were Carl F. Renz of the State Police and Edward Parkinson, representing the Pennsylvania Automotive Association. He gave a career legal information and discussed "operation problems pertinent to dealerships."

The next meeting will be held Thursday, April 28.

ARENDSVILLE AUDITORS FILE ANNUAL REPORT

Arendtsville's general water and highway funds showed a net increase during 1954, but the borough's debt remained at $4,000, according to the annual auditors' report filed Tuesday with the clerk of courts.

The report shows that the sixteen-mill real estate tax yielded $2,957.20, while the occupations tax brought in $126.12 in current collections and $142.30 in prior-year collections. There is still $161.79 due in the latter levy, but the former was entirely collected.

The general fund had $974.13 in the bank January 1, 1954, and ended it with $1,620.92. Income totaled $3,623.75, while expenditures added up to $2,976.96. Sources of income, in addition to the general revenues, were $100 from liquor licenses and taxes, $108.63 in federal and state aid and $298.32 in county aid.

The major expenses were: $207.59 for administration costs, $103.70 for tax collection costs, $280 for fire hydrants, $614.40 for street lighting, $1,658.17 for street costs, which includes $1,139.85 for construction work, and $49.10 for "military and civic celebrations."

Water Fund Increases

The Arendtsville water fund rose from $22.78 at the start to $49.95 at the end of 1954. Income totaled $5,143.75, while expenses totaled $5,096.80.

The income came principally from the sale of water, $4,120.97, and a loan of $1,000. The costs were divided up as follows: $199.13 for purification costs, $965.60 for pumping, which includes $713.80 for power, $302.13 for labor costs in distribution of water, $2,240.60 for "construction or extension of system," $1,000 paid on the floating loan, and $180.84 interest on the remainder.

The highway fund rose from $67.01 at the start to $79.39 at the end. The $309 income came from the state license fund. Of the expenses, $260 went for the construction and rebuilding of roads, and $46.62 for their maintenance.

The report is signed by the borough secretary, L. E. Myers, and by Auditors Clyde A. Allison and R. R. Criswell.

Viet Nam Commander Joins U.S.-Backed Premier With Ten Thousand Of His Troops

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP)—Premier Ngo Dinh Diem scored a major victory today in his hot and cold war with South Viet Nam's three private armies. One opposition commander in chief came over to the U.S.-backed Premier's side with some 10,000 of his troops.

Saigon, meanwhile, was quiet under an uneasy 24-hour truce arranged after at least 26 persons were killed and 112 wounded in pre-dawn fighting yesterday in the capital. That battle was between the national army and troops of the Binh Xuyen society, another unit of the anti-Diem coalition.

The switch to the Premier was made by Gen. Nguyen Thanh Phuong, military commander of the Cao Dai religious sect, in a ceremony at Diem's Independence Palace integrating his troops into the national army.

Joining Phuong in the allegiance pledge to Diem's government were 42 officers of the Cao Dai army,

Here And There News Collected At Random

The National Board of Fire Underwriters recently reported that accumulated rubbish and litter are causing relatively as many fires as they did 10 years ago. Their findings are based on a comparison of statistics of fires resulting from known causes. They show that during the 10-year period, 1933-1943 rubbish and litter caused 0.85 per cent of all fires and that during the next ten years they caused 1.90 per cent of all blazes.

The monthly fire losses, by monthly comparison during 1954 and 1953, follows:

$870,984,000 - Total $903,400,000

The total of rabbits live-trapped from cities, gardens, parks and other places in Pennsylvania where they were considered a nuisance has reached a new high. Game Commission officials noted today.

Near-complete records show 60,123 cottontails were box-trapped this winter and transferred to open hunting areas to provide future sport for hunters. The few reports yet to be received will increase this total somewhat.

This total betters the number taken last winter, almost 50,000, which itself established a record. In 1953 the catch was close to

FLY 500,000 ONIONS HERE

Some 500,000 onion plants, that Sunday were resting in Texas soil, were in the hands of FFA students throughout Adams and Franklin Counties, with the youngsters planning to plant some of them and sell the rest.

Richard C. Lighter, supervisor of agricultural education for the two counties, said the high school youths were having difficulty in seeking plants for their own use—they have too many customers.

Continuing a program they started last year, the youngsters had the plants, 41 crates of them, flown in from Texas. The plants are of the yellow sweet Spanish (Bermuda) onion type. Biglerville High students bought three crates, East Berlin one, Fairfield two, Gettysburg two, New Oxford two and York Springs five.

The county also got one crate free. George Carey, a Gettysburg High School FFA member, grew the biggest onion of all the FFA youngsters in the area last year. He notified the company in Texas of the size of the vegetable and he was given a free crate of plants.

The plants were gathered early Sunday in Texas, flown to Harrisburg, arriving there at about 8 a.m. Monday. Lighter then arranged for distribution by truck to the various schools.

R.C. Will Continue To Accept Donations

Red Cross contributions are beginning to come in at a faster rate but today is the last day of the official Red Cross drive and the county total is still over $9,000 short of its goal, according to Mrs. Raymond P. Hill, executive secretary of the county Red Cross.

"Our people are out collecting, but it just takes time," Mrs. Hill said today. "We only have one complete report turned in, and that is from Mrs. Kerri Herter, who is captain of Zone 5, in Gettysburg. She turned in $174.50, which is an increase over last year.

"Our grand total today is $5,910.10. While our drive officially ends today, we will continue to accept contributions."

CONFERENCE TO OPEN FRIDAY AT SEMINARY HERE

A number of men high in the ranks of the United Lutheran Church in America and social science instructors from a score of colleges and universities will gather here Friday for a weekend conference on "Christian Perspectives for the Social Sciences."

The conference for professors of social sciences is being sponsored by the Board of Higher Education of the ULCA. A dinner will open the conference Friday evening and the final session will be held Sunday morning.

At the first plenary session Friday evening at 7:30 o'clock Prof. Francis Reinberger of the seminary faculty will conduct devotions and the conferees will be welcomed by Dr. Harry P. Baughman, president of the seminary.

Editor Of 'The Lutheran' To Speak

The purpose of the conference will be explained by Dr. Gould Wickes, executive secretary of the Board of Higher Education of the ULCA and the address of the evening will be delivered by Dr. G. E. son Ruff, editor of "The Lutheran." A discussion period that will follow will be led by Dr. Albert F. Wassen, instructor in sociology at Yale University.

Breakfast Saturday morning will be at 8 o'clock, and the second plenary session will be held at 8:45 a.m. in the administration building. Dr. Paul H. Helsey, professor of Bible and sociology at Newberry College, will conduct devotions. An address on the convention theme will be delivered by Dr. Karl H. Hertz, professor of sociology at Wittenberg College. Theodore J. C. Kuehnert, professor of education and social sciences at Corcoran Teachers College, will lead a discussion period that will follow.

The first meeting of the social science groups will be held at 10:30 a.m. Lunch will be served at 12:30 p.m. and a plenary session will be held at 2 o'clock with Dr. Arthur J. Seeger, Board of Social Action, ALC, Grafton, Ia. The Rev. Harold C. Letts, secretary for social action of the Board of Social Missions of the ULCA, will be discussion leader.

Worship Service Sunday

Sectional meetings will be held at 4 o'clock and dinner will be served at 6 p.m. Sister Catherine Neuhardt, dean and professor of social science at the Baltimore Deaconess Training School at Baltimore, will lead evening devotions. There will be a panel discussion on "An Evaluation of the Social Sciences in the Service of the Church."

Discussion sections will present reports at a plenary session Sunday morning at 8:45 o'clock and at 11 o'clock there will be a worship service in the Church of the Abiding Presence. The sermon will be delivered by Dr. Henry J. Whiting, executive secretary of the Division of Welfare of the National Lutheran Council.

Panel members for the conference will include Dr. M. Esther Bloss, professor of sociology at Gettysburg College; Robert E. Carlson, instructor in history at the University of Pittsburgh; Gladys Inez Seale, assistant professor of Bible and sociology at Lenoir Rhyne College; Rev. Francis A. Shearer, secretary for Inner Missions, Board of Social Missions, ULCA; Dr. Reuben G. Steinmeyer, professor of government and political science at the University of Maryland, and Dr. Robert E. Vandusen, Washington secretary, Division of Public Relations, NLC.

In the conference sections Dr. Robert Fortenbaugh, head of the department of history at Gettysburg College, will serve as chairman of the history section.

DAMAGES HIS CAR

James Yingling, 55 E. Railroad St., told borough police Wednesday that his car struck a hole in the first block of S. Washington St. Monday night causing damage estimated at $40 to his transmission case. Police referred him to Burgess William G. Weaver, who advised him that the borough was not responsible for the damage.

BOARD WILL MEET

The April meeting of the board of directors of the Adams County Free Library will be held Friday evening at 7:30 o'clock at the main library on E. High St.

'55 SHORTAGE OF RAIN WIPED OUT IN MARCH

March rains that were nearly double the normal amount wiped out the 1955 deficiency of rainfall and put the year 0.23 inches ahead of normal for the first quarter.

The month, remembered best for its high winds and sudden shifts from balmy to freezing weather and back again, closed today with temperature averages for the month 3.3 degrees above normal.

The month's temperatures ranged from an icy 17 degrees above zero to a springlike 75 degrees. The low reading came on March 8 and the high was recorded two days later. The mercury plunged again and was up to the 72-degree mark once more on March 16. Freezing temperatures were recorded on 13 days.

Winter Snowfall 14.8 Inches

March's three inches of snow that arrived only a few days before spring brought the winter's total snowfall here to 14.8 inches. Measurable amounts of rain fell on 14 days this month and wiped out the 2.79-inch shortage that had accumulated in the first two months of the year. January had only 0.35 inches and February was also short at 2.63 inches. March's showers cut the rain shortage for the last 15 months to 5.22 inches. Last year wound up about six inches short on rain.

N.Y. HISTORICAL SOCIETY GETS TREASURY OF ANCIENT PAPERS

By W. G. ROGERS
Associated Press Arts Editor
NEW YORK — "I was tipped off to it."

Spoken with the sort of smile you see on the cat that's swallowed the canary, this explains how the New York Historical Society happened to receive the Livingston papers.

What are the Livingston papers? According to Dr. R. W. G. Vail, who got the tip, who did the smile, who told the story, they are the papers of the family of Chancellor Robert R. Livingston (1746-1813), whom Dr. Vail calls:

"The most important figure of the Revolutionary War period whose papers had not been accounted for."

As a few obvious indications of their importance, they include Napoleon's authorization for the sale of Louisiana; letters, hand-writing or signatures of half a dozen presidents and Franklin, Hamilton, Lafayette, Thomas Paine, John Paul Jones, Robert Fulton, and paintings by, among others, Gilbert Stuart.

Ten-Year Tip
Dr. Vail, director of the Historical Society, says the tip reached him about 1945, when an appraiser went to work on this treasure. Scholars had wondered what became of it but didn't know where to look. Living Livingstons had heard rumors but had not themselves seen the collection.

The chancellor's great-grandson, Richard M. C. Livingston, a paid storage charges on it for decades. His will left everything to brothers and sisters whom, however, he outlived, so at last he named a cousin, Goodhue Livingston, as his heir. Richard died in 1945. Goodhue in 1951.

It was the Goodhue Livingstons who presented the invaluable collection to the society. It was the oldest account in the New York warehouse where it had been stored. It had been packed away about the time of the Civil War. How did Dr. Vail know?

Civil War Wrappings
"It was wrapped in Civil War newspapers. We unwrapped them with extra care, and not only noted the contents but added the wrappings to our files."

Two scholars are specially assigned to these 25,000 papers, paintings, books, jewels and so on, and even with Dr. Vail's helping hand, it will be a labor of several years to classify them all.

Dr. Vail is always on the lookout for news of estates being broken up. Maybe it's a first family with an old Fifth Ave. home. Dr. Vail sends photographers to take pictures of historic room and period furniture. He goes along, too, and splits a painting by the famous 19th Century portraitist Such-and-such, of the last heir's grandfather. Surely he can't sell grandfather's picture?

Can't Sell Grandfather
No, the heir agrees, he can't sell grandfather.

But he could give him to an appropriate institution?
Yes, he could. Perhaps the New York Historical Society would oblige him by accepting?

Yes, it would. And would there also be papers in that old desk, or up in the attic?

More than half of the society's material came by gift, Dr. Vail says. Another set being progressed is the 10,000 or so items in the collection of the late Augustus Van Horne Stuyvesant, last of his name. But the sources are drying up, the doctor laments.

No Government Agency
He also says that these priceless materials are, or should be, government property. But government doesn't form and finance agencies to handle them—he noted the gifts of the Roosevelt and Dewey papers to private institutions.

Historical societies step in, of necessity, and perform essential services for scholar and historian. The bigger the center, the more valuable it is for research; the more collections the director can put at the public's disposal, the better off the public. The man who wants to dig into our past saves time and energy if he digs in one single fruitful spot, such as the combined library and museum headed by Dr. Vail.

BAILED FOR COURT

DEATHS

Friends may call at the Bankard Funeral Home, Westminster, after 7 o'clock this evening and until noon Friday.

Rev. M. M. Smyser

Word has been received here of the death of the Rev. M. Mosser Smyser, 89, a native of Lisburn and graduate of Dickinson College, in Japan where he had served as a teacher and missionary for more than 25 years.

The Rev. Mr. Smyser's work among the Japanese was not aligned with any church and many friends and religious groups had contributed to the support of his work. The mission he conducted was called the Smyser Faith Mission.

The Rev. Mr. Smyser was a son of the late Henry and Catherine Shetter Smyser. He was graduated from Dickinson College in 1900 with Phi Beta Kappa honors. For a brief time he studied at the Lutheran Theological Seminary here and the New York Bible Seminary. He entered YMCA work and became assistant secretary of the Orange, N. J. YMCA in 1901 and general secretary at Norristown the following year.

In 1903 he went to Japan to teach English. Along with his English teaching program he conducted Bible lessons and prayer meetings for the natives and in 1914 he set up the independent mission.

He is survived by a daughter, Mrs. Gordon Sutherland, Cambridge, Mass.

Charles N. Fidler

Charles Nevill Fidler, 73, husband of Mrs. Carrie E. Gentzler Fidler, York, died at 8:40 a.m. Wednesday in York Hospital after he was stricken at his home.

Surviving in addition to his widow are a daughter, Mrs. Edgar Knaub, York; a brother, Howard Fidler, Gettysburg; R. D., and three sisters, Mrs. Emanuel Hammerstick, Mrs. James Noel and Mrs. William Deardoff, all of Hanover. He was a member of St. Peter's Lutheran Church of New York and the Men's Bible Class of the Sunday School. He belonged to York Castle 34, Ancient Order Knights of the Mystic Chain; Crystal Lodge 248, Knights of Pythias; and York Safe and Lock Company Beneficial Association.

His pastor, the Rev. Howard O. Walker, will officiate at funeral services at 1:30 p.m. Saturday at the Shindler Funeral Home, 915 North Duke St., York. Burial in Prospect Hill Cemetery, York.

TWO SEAMEN

SENT TO PRISON

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—Two youthful Navy enlisted men have been sentenced to five years each for seven kidnap-robberies during a ten-week crime spree in Pennsylvania, New Jersey and Delaware.

U. S. District Judge John W. Lord Jr., in passing sentence on Milford W. Eutsey, 20, of Chester, Pa., and Roger L. Henriksen, 19, of Quincy, Mass., yesterday recommended they be sent to the Youth Training Center, Ashland, Ky., so they might be taught a trade.

The pair were crew members of the U.S.S. Catocin, an amphibious communications and headquarters ship at the Philadelphia Naval Base. They were arrested last December and pleaded guilty to the charges March 7.

Asst. U.S. Atty. Frank Tarbox told the court yesterday that the seven robberies yielded the two only $254 in cash and a watch which they sold for $20.

The victims were either motorists who gave the defendants a ride or hitchhikers the defendants picked up in their own car. Several of the victims were bound and put in the trunk of their car.

U.S. TO DRAFT 10,000 IN MAY

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Army today issued a draft call for 10,000 in May—2,000 more than the April quota.

The May call compares with 11,000 in February and March. It brings to 1,898,430 the total number drafted or earmarked for induction since the resumption of Selective Service 1 September 1950.

The Army monthly draft calls are increased or decreased in line with the number of men who voluntarily enlist or re-enlist for additional tours of duty.

One reason the Army cut the April quota to 8,000 was that it had a rush of volunteers in January. Many youngsters enlisted then to get into service before expiration of GI educational and other benefits at the end of January.

In February the Army took in 26,414 men, of whom more than 15,000 were re-enlistments or volunteers.

The January voluntary enlistments were the greatest since World War II. There were 25,660 first-time volunteers and 10,819 re-enlistments.

JOE PULTZER DIES SUDDENLY

ST. LOUIS (AP)—Joseph Pultzer, editor and publisher of the St. Louis Post-Dispatch, died about midnight from a ruptured blood vessel of the abdomen. He was 70.

The announcement of his death was made today by his son Joseph Pultzer III.

Death came unexpectedly. Only Tuesday night he had attended an annual gridiron dinner of the St. Louis Advertising Club. He was at his office yesterday, working at his desk throughout the day and leaving at his usual time.

He became ill at about 9:30 p.m. and was rushed to Barnes Hospital where he died around midnight.

Pultzer who headed the Post-Dispatch for 43 years, prided himself with being a working newspaperman. Under his leadership his afternoon newspaper became known as one of the great crusading newspapers of the nation. Pultzer was known as a perfectionist and he demanded and got good reporting.

Among numerous investigations he sent the Post-Dispatch on was one into a Centralia, Ill., mine explosion in 1947 which claimed 111 lives. Pultzer charged negligence. Before the investigation ended some small appointive state officials were indicted.

But the Post-Dispatch maintained the real answer came when Gov. Dwight D. Green ran for re-election and was defeated.

His Post-Dispatch won a number of Pulitzer awards, which were established by Pulitzer's father. The newspaper itself won five; four were won by members of the news staff; one by the editorial cartoonist and one by an editorial writer.

YALTA PAPERS ARE DENOUNCED

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. Sparkman (D-Ala.) said today a GOP summary of the Yalta conference papers was an attempt to disgrace former President Franklin D. Roosevelt.

He predicted the 51-page document, compiled by the staff of the Senate Republican Policy Committee and released late yesterday, would react against that party.

"This effort to pin the label of disgrace on Roosevelt is bound to react," Sparkman said. "The American people will always remember his great leadership that won for his country the most terrible war in history."

The GOP document says Roosevelt knew three months before the February 1945 conference between the United States, Britain and Russia that Russia was prepared to enter the war against Japan; that "the A-bomb was in Mr. Roosevelt's pocket one month before Yalta"; and that Alger Hiss was "given all documents and top secret files which set forth what the United States delegation planned to do at Yalta."

Sparkman denounced the document as "replete with misrepresentations and distortions of facts."

BIRTH ANNOUNCEMENTS

Mr. and Mrs. Lake Ridinger Jr., R. 1, announce the birth of a daughter today at the Warner Hospital.

A son was born today at the hospital to Mr. and Mrs. Robert Kaas, Emmitsburg.

Tests on first aid, prepared by Mrs. Harold Delp, were distributed. Girls were requested to prepare a 10-question original quiz on first aid for the next meeting. Evelyn Vines and Charlene Pryor gave reports on their Child Care badge. Joan Warren and Donna Showers, who are new members, worked on their tenderfoot requirements. Mrs. Eugene Albright taught Patrols 1 and 2 various ways of applying color for their drawing and painting badge. The meeting closed with the singing of the Caravan song, Friendship Circle and taps.

Midnight Deadline On License Plates

Midnight tonight marks the last moment at which 1954 Pennsylvania tags will be legal for use on the roads.

Numerous cars bearing 1954 tags were seen in Gettysburg today and it is expected that most of the motorists will remember to put on their 1955 tags this afternoon or evening.

Failure to have the 1955 tags on the cars after midnight may lead to a fine.

CLEAR 27 "RISKS"

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Army says it has cleared 27 of 35 Ft. Monmouth, N.J., civilian employees who had been suspended as suspected security risks. The other eight have been fired, according to Army records.

The Pentagon disclosed last night the completion of action in the cases of the 35 workers who were suspended under government loyalty procedures. The Army said all 27 of those cleared were reinstated but that three later quit.

2 RAILROADS ASK FARE RAISE

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—The Pennsylvania and Reading Railroads disclosed today they have applied to the Public Utility Commission for fare increases of approximately 10 per cent on their commuter operations in Pennsylvania.

Additionally, the Pennsylvania-Reading Seashore Lines, which operates in Pennsylvania and New Jersey, seeks a similar increase. The seashore line said similar tariffs were filed last fall at stations in New Jersey and New York City, and went into effect in November, 1954.

The commutation increases would involve weekly, monthly and other commutation tickets. Regular one-way and round trip fares would not be affected.

Thomas J. Costello, manager of the PRR's suburban service, said, "This is less than the increase in wage rates and other costs of operation since the last commutation increase in this area, which went into effect in February, 1952. It will greatly aid in reducing the loss at which these services are operated."

W. D. Prince, passenger traffic manager of Reading Co., said the new tariffs were filed to reduce the "substantial losses being incurred in the operation of commuter service." He said the Reading was forced to absorb nearly seven million dollars in losses from passenger service operation last year. Prince said the greater part of the loss was sustained in providing commuter service.

ASKS CONGRESS FOR AEC FUNDS

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower asked Congress today for $75,000,000 less in Atomic Energy Commission operating funds than the AEC itself had proposed for the year starting July 1.

The proposed cut "does not mean a decrease in the scope of the activities" of the AEC, presidential press secretary James C. Hagerty told newsmen.

The President requested a supplemental grant of $1,870,000 for the Agriculture Department's research service, the money primarily to deal with outbreaks of crop disease.

Another request was for $466,462 for the Library of Congress, mainly to meet salary increases.

For the current fiscal year ending June 30, the President asked for $1,370,000 for the Commerce Department's maritime activities. Specifically, the money would be used to repair hurricane damage to reserve fleet sites on the Atlantic Coast.

85 EMPLOYEES ARE DISMISSED

HARRISBURG (AP)—Joseph Snyder, director of the state Sales Tax Bureau, reported today that 85 field employees have been dismissed. The bureau will go out of business when the sales tax expires Aug. 31.

"This is part of a general cut-back leading up to eventual elimination of the bureau," Snyder explained.

"There will be some replacements," he added. "But most of these will be auditors. All 85 dismissed employees are investigators. They received about $300,000 a year. The dismissals, announced today, also are effective today."

Snyder, a Republican holdover, said the firings are not politically inspired. "With most of the policing now out of the way there isn't the earlier need for a large staff of investigators."

Gov. George M. Leader has promised to allow the tax to elapse.

Of the group dismissed 20 are from the bureau's Philadelphia office. The others are from offices throughout the state.

Two Unhurt When Car Is Demolished

Two young men escaped uninjured when their car was demolished when it failed to negotiate a curve at Bonneauville Wednesday night at 6:10 o'clock.

State police said Mehri C. Senesey, 17, Littlestown R. 2, a tree trimmer, was the driver. Glenn Menges, Gettysburg R. 5, was an occupant of the vehicle. Damage to the 1949 sedan was listed as $450.

The Rev. Mr. Geigley told the board about the annual meeting of the Pennsylvania Citizens Association he attended recently in Harrisburg. Board members expressed interest in attending a Harrisburg meeting April 14 which will be one of eight to be held in the state on re-appraisal of the assistance program. A final conference at Harrisburg May 11 will sum up results of the eight previous meetings on practices and requirements on eligibility, the adequacy of grants and medical care of assistance recipients.

Mrs. William Conover reported she and four staff members had attended a workshop on alcoholics March 22 at York. They attended sessions on social work and nursing in connection with alcoholism.

Board members in attendance included Mrs. Myrtle Conover, Mrs. Julia Holtzworth, Elmer M. Gruver, Leslie V. Stock and Chairman Geigley. Mrs. Myers also was present.

According to announcement by James L. Gardner, field representative. He also announced that George Baker will serve as the local chairman; Mrs. Thomas Hough, residential chairman; Mrs. Betty Hollinger, co-chairman; and Ralph S. Hoffacker Jr., treasurer. Those not contacted may send their contributions to the local treasurer.

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Bock, Lancaster, recently visited Mr. and Mrs. Charles Chubb.

The local fire company will hold a card party at the fire hall Saturday night. The public is invited.

Life is made up of experiences. Into each one some phase of adventure enters. And after each of these adventures and experiences have played their part, there are left-overs with which we enrich our memories.

Mrs. J. J. Hamilton, a dear friend and neighbor for over thirty years, recently closed her eyes. "In the sleep that knows no dream." She was a wonderful woman, beloved by all who ever met or knew her. She once wrote: "I accept each day as a special gift of Providence, and enjoy its bounty. If the day's bounty be slim, I enjoy what is left to me."

Most of us think of an event as ended when it is over, but there are left-overs to every event and experience that we have. Many of these left-overs influence our lives for years. A few even for a lifetime. We read a book and we return to it again and again because of its many left-overs from a former reading.

That which cements friendships are its left-overs. More and more to be learned, both ways, at each new meeting. We never fully know anyone, but from the many left-overs we piece together many a personality. Something of everyone somehow seems to remain.

The left-overs of many a man and woman are what keep the fame of each alive. And long after that one has gone from life, new left-overs are discovered. After nearly a hundred years since the death of Abraham Lincoln, new left-overs about him are revealed. Great men and women really never die!

Edison lives because of his many inventions, but mainly because of his many inventions, but mainly because he gave light to the entire world. That was his big left-over. Thereby he scattered himself everywhere.

Let us not, however, be trapped by the left-overs of yesterday. Let us start our days clean and full of hope bypassing the fears and worries that were so unreal yesterday, and more so today!

Tomorrow Mr. Adams will talk on the subject: "The Story Of Hands."

Just Folks

THE PRICE
I viewed his roses, red and white,
And envied him the lovely sight.
"I wish," said I, "my ground would be Like yours, so beautiful to see."
"It would," he answered, "if you'd try
And work for it as hard as I."

"You could have roses long of stem
If you'd provide the care for them.
If you would rake and hoe and spade,
Like mine, your garden could be made."

But this is what you ought to know:
You cannot wish a rose to grow.
"If you would have your garden nice,
Here's the first lesson you should learn:

A lawn is something you must earn.
Who wants a garden has to work.
Flowers will not flourish for a shirk."

SENATE GROUP OKAYS TREATIES

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Senate Foreign Relations Committee today approved the West German rearmament treaties by a 13-1 vote.

Sen. Langer (R-ND) voted no. Sen. Hickenlooper (R-Iowa) was absent.

The two pacts, a keystone of United States policy in Western Europe, now go to the Senate where consent to their ratification is a foregone conclusion.

The Senate may act later this week before Congress takes an Easter vacation.

One of the two treaties would allow West Germany to build a 12-division army, a small air force, and a coastal navy, all to be integrated into the military structure of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization. It would also restore sovereignty to West Germany.

The second treaty would admit West Germany as the 15th member of NATO.

Propose Repeal Of "Fair Trade" Laws; Would Open Way For Discount Houses

By DOUGLAS B. CORNELL
WASHINGTON (AP)—A government-sponsored committee today proposed repeal of "fair trade" laws designed to prevent cut-rate retail sales of nationally advertised, brand-name products.

If the administration and Congress should follow through, the way would be open for discount houses to spring up everywhere. Merchants would be able to charge whatever they wished for electric mixers, cosmetics, fountain pens and the like—regardless of prices manufacturers want to impose.

The recommendation by the National Committee to Study the Antitrust Laws brought praise from Rep. Celler (D-NY) and some question from Sen. Sparkman (D-Ala.).

Other portions of the committee report were criticized vigorously by them and Rep. Patman (D-Tex.). Celler heads the House Judiciary Committee; Sparkman and Patman are chairmen of Senate and House small business committees.

Curb On Union Work
The study committee also called in somewhat hazy language for legislative curbs on labor union activities that may restrict trade and competition.

The committee report went along with "a condemnation of any merger resulting in an appreciable movement in some market toward monopoly power." But it said a merger in itself is not necessarily an evil and each case will have to be judged on its own merits. And it stood pat on present laws covering mergers.

The committee of 60 was named by Atty. Gen. Brownell in August 1953 with the idea that its findings would be used as the basis for legislative and administrative action in the antitrust field. The administration, of course, may accept or reject any recommendations it chooses.

Has 70 Recommendations
Made up largely of lawyers and economists, the committee came up with some 70 recommendations. A dozen would involve legislation. The rest would apply to administration and enforcement of existing antitrust laws. Its two co-chairmen are Stanley N. Barnes, assistant attorney general in charge of the Justice Department's Antitrust Division, and S. Chesterfield Oppenheim, University of Michigan law professor.

In general, the gist of the recommendations had leaked out several weeks ago. Barnes and Oppenheim agreed at a news seminar that the net result of the recommendations, if carried through, would be a definite strengthening rather than a weakening of antitrust enforcement.

A general dissent by Louis B. Schwartz, University of Pennsylvania law professor, took the position that:

Weaken Antitrust Laws
"The majority report would weaken the antitrust laws in a number of respects, and, even more important, it fails to adopt necessary measures for strengthening the law so as to create a truly competitive economy in this country. On 30 specific issues, the report takes a position inimical to competition... Only two or three of its recommendations look the other way."

Stock Market Improves Today

NEW YORK (AP)—The stock market improved today after a mixed start.

Prices in early dealings went from between 3 and 4 points higher to fractions lower.

Bath Iron Works, which lost 10 points yesterday gained 3 1/2 at 66 1/2 shortly after the start today. General Dynamics opened on 2,000 shares off 3/4 at 76 and then reversed itself and added 2 1/4 at 79. It was down 3 1/4 yesterday.

The fall in the stocks came with a denial yesterday from Bath Iron Works that it intended to merge with General Dynamics.

JEWELERS MIX MODERN DESIGN, INDIAN ARTISTRY

By DOROTHY ROE

Associated Press Women's Editor
SANTA FE, N. M. — Anybody who goes west for a vacation usually comes back laden with the magnificent silver-and-turquoise jewelry which the Indians introduced to the white man.

There are a few great artisans in Tucson, Phoenix and Santa Fe who are combining the red-man's artistry with original modern design. The most widely known of these is Frank Patania, a former New York jewelry designer who went to Santa Fe for his health 28 years ago. He opened his first shop in Santa Fe in 1927, now has another in Tucson, and his jewelry designs in silver, turquoise and coral are known and worn by fashionable women all over the world.

Another is John Bonnell, of Scottsdale, Ariz., who, with his wife, Virginia, turns out striking modern designs in silver and the semi-precious stones of the Southwest.

Husband-Wife Teams

Both the Patanias and the Bonells are husband-and-wife teams who work together. Aurora Patania models all her husband's jewelry, and has a priceless collection of every design he has made since the start. Virginia Bonnell also is her husband's most devoted fan, always wears his jewelry and carries the handbags with the massive silver trimmings which he also designs and makes.

This silver jewelry of the Southwest is all handmade, with many of the workmen drawn from nearby Indian reservations, where the skills of the craft have been handed down from father to son for many generations.

Both the Patanias and the Bonells have fabulous collections of the turquoise stones mined in the area, which show many gradations in color and value.

Reversible Necklace
Patania's most recent success is a reversible silver necklace with turquoise stones on one side, coral on the other.

SEES G.I. PAY RAISE ASSURED

WASHINGTON (AP)—About 1,700,000 members of the armed forces were virtually assured today of a pay raise starting tomorrow.

White House Press Secretary James C. Hagerly said he expects President Eisenhower to sign during the day a bill rushed to him by Congress late yesterday. Carrying out an administration request, it would add primarily career servicemen.

The Senate passed the bill by voice vote after about an hour of discussion yesterday. The House, which had okayed it earlier, accepted by voice vote some minor Senate changes.

Averages 12 Per Cent

The pay raise averages 12 per cent for career service personnel. It is estimated to cost 750 million dollars yearly. With a few exceptions, the measure provides only for raises in base pay, and in hazard bonuses for such specialists as submariners, divers, paratroopers and demolition experts.

Personnel in the lower grades would receive the largest percentage boost. Not counting food and quarters allowances, the pay boost averages out to 13 per cent for enlisted men and 11 1/2 per cent for officers. To benefit, officers must have three years of service and enlisted men and warrant officers two.

See "Serious Danger" For West Berliners

BERLIN, Germany (AP)—The Bundestag today unanimously condemned a Communist-imposed increase in road taxes as a "serious danger" to West Berlin.

Communist East Germany drastically increased the taxes on traffic between West Germany and West Berlin, effective tomorrow.

The Bundestag called on the government to confer with the Allied occupation powers on measures to reduce the taxes to their former level.

This development came as the Allies considered a strong protest to the Russians over the higher taxes.

TO ASK DULLES ABOUT PAPERS

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Senate Foreign Relations Committee today voted unanimously to "request" Secretary of State Dulles to appear before it in a closed-door session to discuss release of the controversial Yalta papers.

The unexpected action was announced by Sen. George (D-Ga.). The purpose of inquiry, George said, is to question Dulles "as soon as is convenient" on why the documents of the long-secret Big Three conference in the Russian Crimea, published March 16, included "informal" remarks and materials as well as papers dealing directly with the formal decisions taken.

George told newsmen following a 1 1/2-hour closed-door session of the committee:

"This is not an investigation. Please note that."

Some Democrats have demanded that Dulles be summoned to explain why the papers were released and how it happened that the New York Times obtained a copy one day before official publication of the documents.

During the period 1920-1950, the population of the United States increased 42 per cent.

College Trackmen To Meet Western Maryland Outfit Here Friday Afternoon

Gettysburg College's track and field team will open its 1955 season by entertaining Western Maryland in a dual meet here Friday afternoon at 3 o'clock.

Coach Johnny Yovicsin has eight lettermen from last year's squad who are scheduled to oppose the Green Terrors.

Workouts have been held up considerably by recent inclement weather but trials were held Wednesday afternoon to decide the probable entries in the events for Friday's meet.

Lettermen and their events against Western Maryland will include the following: Ernie Paliszewski, 100, 220, broad jump; Sal Marziale, 100 and broad jump; Les Eckman, high jump; Don Brake, 220, 240, high jump; Don Fasnacht, 880; Don Griesel, 2-mile run; Sheldon Yimgst, pole vault, shot put, discus; Dick Lewandowski, javelin and shot put.

Others scheduled for participation in the meet include: Glenn Penniman, 100; Ron Paul, 220; Marty Packler, Ed Cooley and Jim Mege, 440; Charles Nauman, Fackler, Bruce Craft and Cooley, 880; Claude Knoll, Natman and Paul Hoffman, mile; Mike Hamlin, 2-mile; Fred Huffnagle, 120 high hurdles; Paul Gallagher, Huffnagle, 220 low hurdles; Charles Heverly, pole vault; Heverly, high jump; Jim McDonnell, broad jump; Glenn Penniman, Frank Eckert, McDonnell, shot put; Penniman, Eckert and Louis Weisselg, discus.

There will be no javelin throw in Friday's meet due to a ruling barring that event for Maryland schools. Dick Lewandowski and George Van Istendal are the leading candidates for that event.

CADILLI GIVEN SPLIT DECISION

PARKS AIR FORCE BASE, Calif. (AP)—Two judges gave Gil Cadilli a split decision over comebacker Willie Pep last night. But the referee, writers and uncensored TV watchers figured Willie, aging former world featherweight champion, was the winner.

Young Cadilli, 22, of San Jose, Calif., started Pep's right eye bleeding in the fourth round of their 10-round fight before 3,000 airmen and a national television audience.

Before the bleeding eye slowed him, Pep, 32, had been building a good point margin over the always boring in Cadilli, a mate of midweight champion Bobo Olson in manager Sid Flaherty's stable.

Judges Eddie James and Tommy Bosnich each gave Cadilli 56-54 point cards. Referee Jack Downey called it 58-52 for Pep. The AP card was 55½-54½ for Pep under California's 11 points a round.

The win was the 24th in 29 fights for Cadilli, who was unmarked at the finish. Cadilli weighed 127, Pep 128. The loss was Pep's seventh in 197 bouts.

UNION MAY BOYCOTT PIKE

PITTSBURGH (AP)—An AFL official today threatened to call for a freight truck boycott against the Pennsylvania Turnpike unless the toll road's commission recognizes his union.

Louis Gizzi, president of Local 341, AFL Excavating, Coal & Dump Truck Drivers, said he has been seeking a contract for 500 turnpike maintenance employees since 1952. He said 443 have signed up with the union.

Gizzi said Thomas J. Evans, chairman of the Turnpike Commission, has always raised questions about the commission's legal right to recognize a union. He said Evans promised to get a ruling but hasn't.

Evans was not immediately available for comment.

Gizzi said: "We are seriously considering a move for motor freight trucks to by-pass the turnpike by using other highways. About 68 per cent of the turnpike traffic is trucks."

Turnpike employees are hired by the state and therefore are prohibited by law from striking. A truck boycott would mean huge losses in revenue.

Gizzi said he will bring the problem up next month at the AFL Teamsters International Union Conference in Chicago.

SUNBURY WILL FIELD TEAM IN PIEDMONT LOOP

RICHMOND, Va. (AP)—The Class B Piedmont baseball league at long last was ready for business today.

The league met here yesterday in a session lasting more than four hours and wound up by adding Sunbury, Pa., to its membership. Sunbury's entrance was something of an about face for the Pennsylvania club.

Only Monday, the Sunbury Baseball Assn. voted 7-6 to turn down a bid to purchase the defunct Colonial Heights-Petersburg, Va., franchise from owner Eddie Moores of Richmond. Failure to sell sufficient season tickets was given as the reason for the Sunbury group's action.

Yesterday, however, the league's directors contacted the Sunbury group, headed by Allen Wolfe, and asked Sunbury to poll its directors again. The baseball association's list of directors has 26 names. Only half of the directors had voted Monday.

15 Favor Team The poll was conducted in Sunbury by telephone. It produced 15 affirmative votes. Wolfe then announced Sunbury would operate a team in the league, now composed of eight clubs.

Judge Ben Campbell, president of the circuit, made the announcement of Sunbury's decision to purchase the Colonial Heights-Petersburg franchise.

No financial details involved in the transaction were announced. "All we know," said Campbell, "is that they've guaranteed us now that they'll operate and that they are now members of the Piedmont. They've always said they could get enough funds if they had sufficient time."

The Sunbury club will have a working agreement with the Cincinnati Redlegs of the National League and will be managed by Virgil Stallcup, former Redleg shortstop.

In Sunbury Wolfe said he would come to Richmond Sunday to sign the contracts and iron out final details of the franchise purchase. He said the Sunbury team will begin spring training Sunday at Douglas, Ga.

The league directors set April 29 as the season's opening date. They also revised the schedule because of the geographical differences.

Other clubs in the league are York and Lancaster, Pa.; Newport News, Richmond, Portsmouth and Lynchburg, Va.; and Hagerstown, Md.

While he deal was being settled, the Yankees were involved in their final Florida game of the spring. It was an atrocious thing.

Yankees Sell Blackwell, Gorman And Kryhoski To Kansas City A's

By ED WILKS The Associated Press

Some folks think the New York Yankees blew their chance for a sixth straight American League pennant last year when they sold Vic Raschi, star right-handed pitcher, to the St. Louis Cardinals before the season opened.

It's hardly likely that George Weiss, the Yankees' general manager, will be criticized for his latest deal—the sale yesterday "in excess of $50,000" for three players to the Kansas City Athletics. Two of the players not only have dubious futures, but dubious pasts as well. It was a straight cash transaction.

The deal sent veteran Ewell Blackwell, reliever Tom Gorman and first baseman Dick Kryhoski to the Kansas City Athletics. Blackwell, now 32, established himself as the right-handed "whip" in 1950-51 with Cincinnati. But he's had his trouble since. The Yankees just put him back on the active list—he voluntarily retired last spring with a sore arm—but he appeared destined for a release.

Gorman, 29, has been up and down in the Yanks' system since 1946. He had a 10-7 record in three tries with the Bombers. Kryhoski, 30, has been known to swing a ball out of the park, but at other times he's hit around 260.

While he deal was being settled, the Yankees were involved in their final Florida game of the spring. It was an atrocious thing.

The league directors set April 29 as the season's opening date. They also revised the schedule because of the geographical differences.

WORLD SERIES IN COLLEGE BOXING OPENING TODAY

POCATELLO, Idaho (AP)—The World Series of college boxing opens today amid assurances the sport is in fine health.

Sixty-one boxers from 17 schools in the United States and Hawaii climb into the ring in quest of the national team title and nine individual championships.

The assurances college boxing is in good health come from two veterans in the sport, Crip Toomey, chairman of the NCAA Boxing Rules Committee, and Johnny Walsh, boxing coach at the University of Wisconsin since 1936.

Army, Maryland, Virginia and Pennsylvania State announced recently they were dropping the sport.

Both Toomey and Walsh admitted college boxing would miss the four Eastern schools. But they expressed confidence the four colleges would continue intramural programs and eventually return to intercollegiate competition.

And, they said, the addition of eight other schools, mostly in the South and Southwest, more than offsets the loss.

What caused the four to withdraw from college boxing?

Both agreed it was individual problems and not maladies which afflicted the entire sport. They pointed to Idaho State College, Louisiana State, Wisconsin, San Jose State and other institutions where college boxing is booming.

"Where they'll get out and work at promoting it," Walsh said, "they won't have any trouble."

SANDERS SAYS SPRING GRID DRILLS NEEDED

SAN ANTONIO, Tex. (AP)—Henry (Red) Sanders, coach of UCLA's mighty football team, thinks spring training is a necessity if the game is to remain tops in sports.

"College football is an entertainment," he says. "We're in competition with pro football and the movies. We need spring training to add the gloss to football so people will want to come out to see it."

Curtailment of spring drills also poses other problems, the UCLA coach said.

Many Need Drills It aggravates the problem of recruiting in that a coach can't take a chance on an untried player who has the desire but because of lack of native ability must have additional practice, Sanders told a football banquet here.

Schools with small squads are hit by the curtailment of spring drills because it leaves the coach no time to experiment or shift players from one position to another, Sanders said.

"I don't believe in my seven years at UCLA that I have come up with a center who started out as a center — and I've had a couple of great ones — like Don Moormann. He came to us as an end. When I moved him to center he became a truly great star."

Cal Segrist all in the thick of the scrap. It could be that Stephens will play third against right handed pitching, with Cox taking over against lefties. Kennedy will be dividing his time between the hot corner and the outfield. Richards is also hopeful that he can find a place on the squad for Segrist, who has been touted as one of the most promising rookies in camp.

Smith To Give Lift In the catching department the Orioles have been strengthened by the acquisition of rookie Hal Smith, the much-heralded receiver who hit a lousy 350 for Columbus last year to win the American Association batting crown. Smith has been the talk of the Orioles' training camp with his flawless receiving and timely hitting. One of the more pleasant developments for Richards has been the fine play of Les Moss, the burly backstop who was hampered throughout the '54 season by a diabetic condition. Les is in perfect condition and has looked great in his exhibition appearances.

Pitching remains a problem for the Orioles, but everyone is hopeful that Paul will be able to put his famous magic touch on the Baltimore fingers, as he has done with other hurlers in the past. Right now he is counting on Harry Byrd, Joe Coleman, Lou Kretlow, Jim McDonald and Irv Palica to carry the bulk of the pitching load. Dee Pillette has been having arm trouble but hopes to be back in form before long. Bob Kuzava, Bill Miller and rookie Don Ferrarese are

ARCARO THINKS NASHUA'S AS HOT AS CITATION

NEW YORK (AP)—Eddie Arcaro, the nation's No. 1 stakes jockey, thinks Nashua is capable of becoming as great a horse as Citation—maybe even greater.

But, said Arcaro today, the future book favorite for the Kentucky Derby still has to prove it, and he would rather withhold the superlatives until he sees what the stud beauty does in the Derby and the other triple crown classics.

Just in from Florida, where he piloted Nashua to a thrilling victory Saturday in the $148,750 Florida Derby at Gulfstream, Arcaro awaits the opening of the New York season tomorrow at Jamaica.

"Certainly, I've got to be awfully high on this dude, but it's a little premature to try comparing him with Citation. We know what Citation could do. He would smother his field."

"Now this Nashua, he could be anything—nobody can tell what the future will bring. He's not as good as he will be later—he won't level out and do his best—just enough to win."

"He should do it easy—but he won't. Nashua has a terrific will to win. When a horse comes up to him, he won't let him pass."

"It might be easy for Nashua, but it's a helluva strain on me, trainer Sunny Jim Fitzsimmons, owner William Woodward and anyone who's connected with the colt."

HORNETS TAKE HOCKEY LEAD By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS Pittsburgh's Hornets, already winners of the regular American Hockey League championship in rookie coach Howie Meeker, hold a 1-0 edge today over the Buffalo Bisons in the best-of-seven series for the American Hockey League's Calder Cup.

Forward Bob Hassard and diminutive goalie Gil Mayer were the big guns in the Hornets' 5-4 victory over the Bisons last night in the Steel City. While Hassard was scoring two goals Mayer was demonstrating his usual effectiveness at the net. He had 28 saves, 12 of them in the hectic third period when the Bisons came within one goal of a tie by scoring twice.

Hassard's first goal came in the opening period when the Hornets took a 3-1 lead. His other was in the third stanza after Pete Babando scored for Buffalo, cutting the Hornets' margin to a single goal. The Hornets, ahead 5-3, had to put on an outstanding defensive display in the final three minutes and 46 seconds after Buffalo's Ken Wharram tallied at 16:14.

The second game of the series will be played at Pittsburgh Saturday night.

the only left-handers on the Orioles mound staff. Promising newcomers include Ray Moore, Ryne Duran and Bob Alexander, while the number one relief hurler at present appears to be Don Johnson, who came to the Orioles from the White Sox in the Courtney deal.

Strong On Defense Defensively the Orioles are one of the best teams in the league. Their biggest trouble is at the plate, where there is a noticeable lack of power. Gene Woodling, Vern Stephens and Gus Triandos are about the only Orioles with any real power among the probable starters. Richards hopes to offset this lack of power with an aggressive hit and run type of attack, utilizing the speed of players like Gile Coan, Willie Miranda, Billy Cox and Chuck Diering. The Orioles have spent many hours sharpening up their bunting technique, and it is quite likely that Richards will employ some finer offensive strategy, rather than try to over-power the opposition. At the same time, with the ever-dangerous Woodling in the line-up and a couple of others who can belt one occasionally, the Flock will be making things pretty hot for the opposition.

One thing is sure: the Orioles are a new team — new players, new Coach "Hen" Bream's Gettysburg College baseball team will open its 18-game schedule Friday afternoon at 3 o'clock at Elizabethtown College.

The entire squad will make the trip to Elizabethtown, Coach Bream having delayed cutting his squad until more seasonable weather permits him a better chance to appraise the candidates.

With the exception of Art Hendley, sophomore, who is scheduled to start at second base, the starting lineup will be comprised of squad members from last year although not all were letter winners.

Hendley will occupy the lead-off position in the batting order and will be followed by King Van Nest, right fielder; Oakie Schalk, first baseman; Ken Polak, center fielder; Bob Swenk, left fielder; Fred Alleva, catcher; Don Gilchrist, third baseman; Don Woodington, shortstop.

It is the plan of Coach Bream to use three hurlers in the contest.

Joe Bierly, Joe Foulk, Wally Kuligowski, John Schleicher and Gareth Blaser are the leading candidates for pitching duties. Foulk, Kuligowski and Blaser are left-handers.

Following Friday's game the Bullets will be idle until after the Easter recess when they will meet Western Maryland at Westminster on April 14.

WILLIAMSPORT TO PLAY BALL WILLIAMSPORT, Pa. (AP)—Umpires will holler "play ball" for Eastern League teams in Williamsport again this season, just as they have since 1923.

Directors of the Williamsport Area Baseball Corp. reversed themselves and voted 17-2 yesterday to keep their team in the league for the coming season.

"This is the best tonic I've had since my operation," said league President Tommy Richardson from his hospital bed. He has been hospitalized since an operation two weeks ago.

A surge in the advance sale of season tickets was responsible for the change of mind, said Joseph E. Mosser, corporation president.

He said more than $34,000 has been realized through the sales of season tickets and other combination ticket sales. Two weeks ago, the corporation voted 12-4 to do away with organized baseball in Williamsport. At that time the advance sales had fallen about $20,000 short of the $50,000 goal.

"A new drive has just gotten underway and it appears that the people are really behind it," a spokesman said.

AZALEA OPEN IS STARTED TODAY WILMINGTON, N. C. (AP)—Golfers and flowers vied for attention today as the seventh annual Azalea Open, a $12,500 tournament, got under way.

The city's million azalea blossoms, hit by a severe weekend cold wave, were not at their normal peak of beauty, but the sponsoring Wilmington Athletic Assn. was pleased by the golf prospects.

The 4-day, 72-hole chase for top money of $2,200 listed most of the active tournament stars, nearing the end of their winter grind which began in Miami last December.

Even little Bob Toski is here seeking to repeat his 1954 Azalea triumph when his 273 led the field by three shots. Toski has been on an almost exclusive exhibition diet since he won the World Championship tournament last summer.

coaches, new manager, even new uniforms. No one feels like taking Mr. Richards too lightly. He is a man who likes to win, and in the 14 seasons he has managed, his teams have finished in the first division 11 times, never lower than sixth.

SAYS COAL CAN VIE FOR HOME HEATING MART

NEW YORK (AP)—Francis O. Case, president of the Glen Alden Coal Co., said today he is confident that anthracite could compete strongly for the home heating market but it would take "a tremendous merchandising job."

Case was a speaker for the first annual Interstate Solid Fuel Conference at the Hotel Biltmore, attended by some 700 members of the New York State Fuel Merchants Assn. and the Fuel Merchants Assn. of New Jersey.

In a prepared address, Case said:

"Certainly I do not deny that we have confidence in the future potential of anthracite for use in chemical, industrial and metallurgical operations . . .

"However, the real point I wish to make is that I do not believe these markets will replace in importance the consuming market represented by you gentlemen . . .

"The inherent qualities of anthracite, if properly exploited, can aid us in competing for the home-heating market. Working together, I firmly believe we can save a large part of our remaining market, stabilize our selling procedure, and, in the long run, reverse the present down trend of our industry."

Through cooperation of fuel merchants and their suppliers of anthracite, Case said, "I envision the use of the highest quality automatic equipment, excellent service for such equipment, and adequate provisions for removal of ash."

"The fuel supplied must be the best quality, properly sized and dustless."

"While lower prices are important," Case said, "they should be soundly developed after reduced costs, and not be based on opportunism or the evasion of legitimate expenses and responsibilities."

Pledges Cooperation
Another speaker was Thomas Kennedy, vice president of the United Mine Workers of America. Kennedy, also chairman of the board of trustees of the Anthracite Health and Welfare Fund, in a prepared speech renewed the union's pledge as follows:

"To give the fullest cooperation to the producers and retailers of the anthracite industry to the end that this great basic industry will be enabled to realize its proper position as a basic natural resource in our economy."

A message to the conference from Pennsylvania Gov. George M. Leader said in part:

"As evidence of my sincere desire to help coal's future, I have sponsored a bill which would ap-

THANKS

The hard working men and women of our local school boards have often done the "impossible" in coping with our rapidly growing school needs. For what they have accomplished — they deserve our greatest gratitude.

But with school needs still growing, they need more than our thanks. They need our active support, individually and through other community groups.

Let's help them, not only to solve current problems, but to plan a program that looks at least ten years ahead to insure the future education of our children.

appropriate $4 million dollars to match a similar federal appropriation to provide for a large anthracite mine drainage program."

The conference delegates were to adopt resolutions pertaining to school aid, new home construction, railroad freight rates and transportation tax on coal.

Need Economical Systems

One was that legislation should be enacted to insure installation of the most economical heating systems for new school buildings under the federal school aid program. It said that in many areas automatic anthracite installations would prove the most economical of all systems.

The fuel merchants also were to petition municipal, state and federal governments to adopt ordinances insuring all-purpose flues in new home construction to permit home owners to use any type fuel.

The convention also was to call for passage of H. R. 3763, introduced by Rep. Daniel Flood (D-Pa.), to eliminate the four-cent-per-ton transportation tax on coal. The resolution termed the tax "an inequitable burden on the industry."

INTIMATE TALES OF CHURCHILL ABOUND IN BOOK BY BODYGUARD

By W. G. ROGERS

Associated Press Arts Editor

NEW YORK — You've seen a better picture of Sir Winston Churchill than the one just drawn by a visiting English couple:

Roly-poly statesman, a huffer, puffer and snuffer, weeping and then chuckling in private as he composes a speech, stomping through a manorial hall without his teeth, working his aides and secretaries to a frazzle, hating whistling, hating cigarettes, hanging onto the end of a cross-cut saw, blasting at a bodyguard and being blasted back, loyal to his staff and inspiring in them a loyalty which never slackens one iota.

It's the bodyguard who in a book, "Assignment: Churchill" (Farrar, Straus and Young) provides most of this harp, intimate and vastly revealing picture. He is Walter Henry Thompson, Scotland and inspector who has served at Churchill's elbow for 20 of the last 30 years.

Adds Color

But it's one of the secretaries Thompson's wife, with Sir Winston for several years as World War II was developing, who in the course of an interview adds some colorful details. They have been here while the inspector made a coast-to-coast lecture tour.

It was in this country, too, according to Thompson, a spare, inspector-like looking fellow with a stern glance but a pleasant manner, that Sir Winston had his narrowest escape from an assassination attempt. It was in Chicago, in 1931. As Secretary for Colonies, he had aroused implacable Indian ire, and it was an Indian whom Thompson intercepted after a Churchill lecture. Thompson spotted him, drew his gun and captured him. He says "a man had an accomplice, that he was dangerously near and that he meant business."

Now retired, in his mid-sixties but looking a smart 45, Thompson has seen the Prime Minister through some tight spots. He has slugged it out with a mob yelling for Churchill blood in Egypt. He has lugged it out with friendly but no less threatening demonstrators at London elections. He has been riding with the Prime Minister when a buzz-bomb nearly turned their speeding car topsy-turvy in wartime Britain's capital.

Thrives On Risk
Churchill thrives on risk, Thompson says — he calls him Winston, Winnie, Father or Old Man. The wartime leader and author sleeps with a pistol handy,

Paralyzed Painter Holds Brush In Teeth

GRAND RAPIDS, Mich. (AP)—Warren Van Ess, 19, is completely paralyzed in both arms and legs from polio. But his paintings are gaining attention from critics and art patrons.

He holds his brush in his teeth. Since last summer he has completed four water-colors and plans to try oils.

All of his works, instructors say, exceed standards of painters with normal use of hands and are especially noteworthy because of their fine detail.

There is a good shot. But after one close shave he reminded Thompson:

"There is someone besides you looking after me. I have a mission to perform."

There was a lighter side, though, and Mrs. Thompson suggested: "Tell about his strip-tease."

It seems Sir Winston always napped at five in the afternoon. Thompson explained: "He would walk along one side of his bedroom around the bed, then get in."

In the course of his walk he undressed, dropping his clothes wherever he took them off. By the time I'd walked after him picking them up, and drawn the curtain, he was sound asleep."

Churchill At Saw

Then there was the day he cut down a tree at Chartwell. "He hated to lose a tree, and he was sad. The gardener brought us a cross-cut saw. Winston got on one end and I on the other. He has no more idea how to use a cross-cut! Fast, he'd go, too fast. So very soon he told the gardener to take his end. The gardener was fresh, and before long I was tired. I looked at Winston, leaning against another tree, watching us, smoking a cigar, so satisfied, and I thought, well!

"Here, you take it," I said to him.

"He waved me a no. Puffing on that cigar, he said, 'You keep right on, Thompson, you're doing fine.'"

Mrs. Thompson remembered how economical he was with words. He'd interrupt his dictation and cry, "Gimme!" which meant she had to tear the sheet out of the typewriter and show it to him. Or he'd stick out his hand and order "Kop!" She had to ask him what that meant: it was his word for punch.

RUTH'S RECORD LITTLE WORRY TO KLUSZEWSKI

By TED KLUSZEWSKI

Cincinnati Redlegs

TAMPA, Fla. (AP)—I think anybody who hits home runs wants to go after Babe Ruth's record of 60.

But I'm not going to worry about it. If I do I'll only get into trouble. A lot of guys have tried but they never made it.

The only time I'll start worrying about it is if I ever get to 50 by the first of September. Then I'll go for it. (Last year Kluszewski hit 49 home runs, a new high for him. He had hit 28 by Aug. 1.)

Ruth hit 9 in August and 17 in September of 1927. That means he hit 26 home runs the last two months and I should start worrying about a record like that?

My only goal this season is to try to better my record of 1954 when I hit 40 home runs, drove home 141 runs and batted .326, all new highs for me.

My best home run streak last year was 17 in a month between Aug. 11 and Sept. 11.

Turns Parking Ticket Into Neat Profit

MANCHESTER, N. H. (AP)—John J. Fiske walked into police headquarters expecting to pay a fine for overtime parking — but collected $37 instead.

When the desk officer asked Fiske to produce his driving license, he said he had lost it with his wallet.

"Is this it?" asked the deskman, showing a wallet containing the license and $37.

It was. The wallet had been found and turned over to police. Fiske didn't even have to pay the fine because it was his first offense.

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP)—The ABC's of lawmaking were offered freshmen members of the 54th Texas legislature in a University of Texas short course.

New members were told how to write bills, how the House and Senate function, what the rules are. Experts discussed all phases of state government.

Not listed in the curriculum was "how to keep the folks happy back home."

VICTORIA DE LOS ANGELES, OPERA SINGER, TALKS WITH GESTURES

By W. G. ROGERS
Associated Press Arts Editor
NEW YORK (AP)—Maybe your idea of Victoria de los Angeles is "voice."

That's my idea, too, after hearing her at the Metropolitan Opera as Mimi in "La Boheme," Rosina in "The Barber of Seville," Marguerite in "Faust" and as Butterfly and Melisande and Manon.

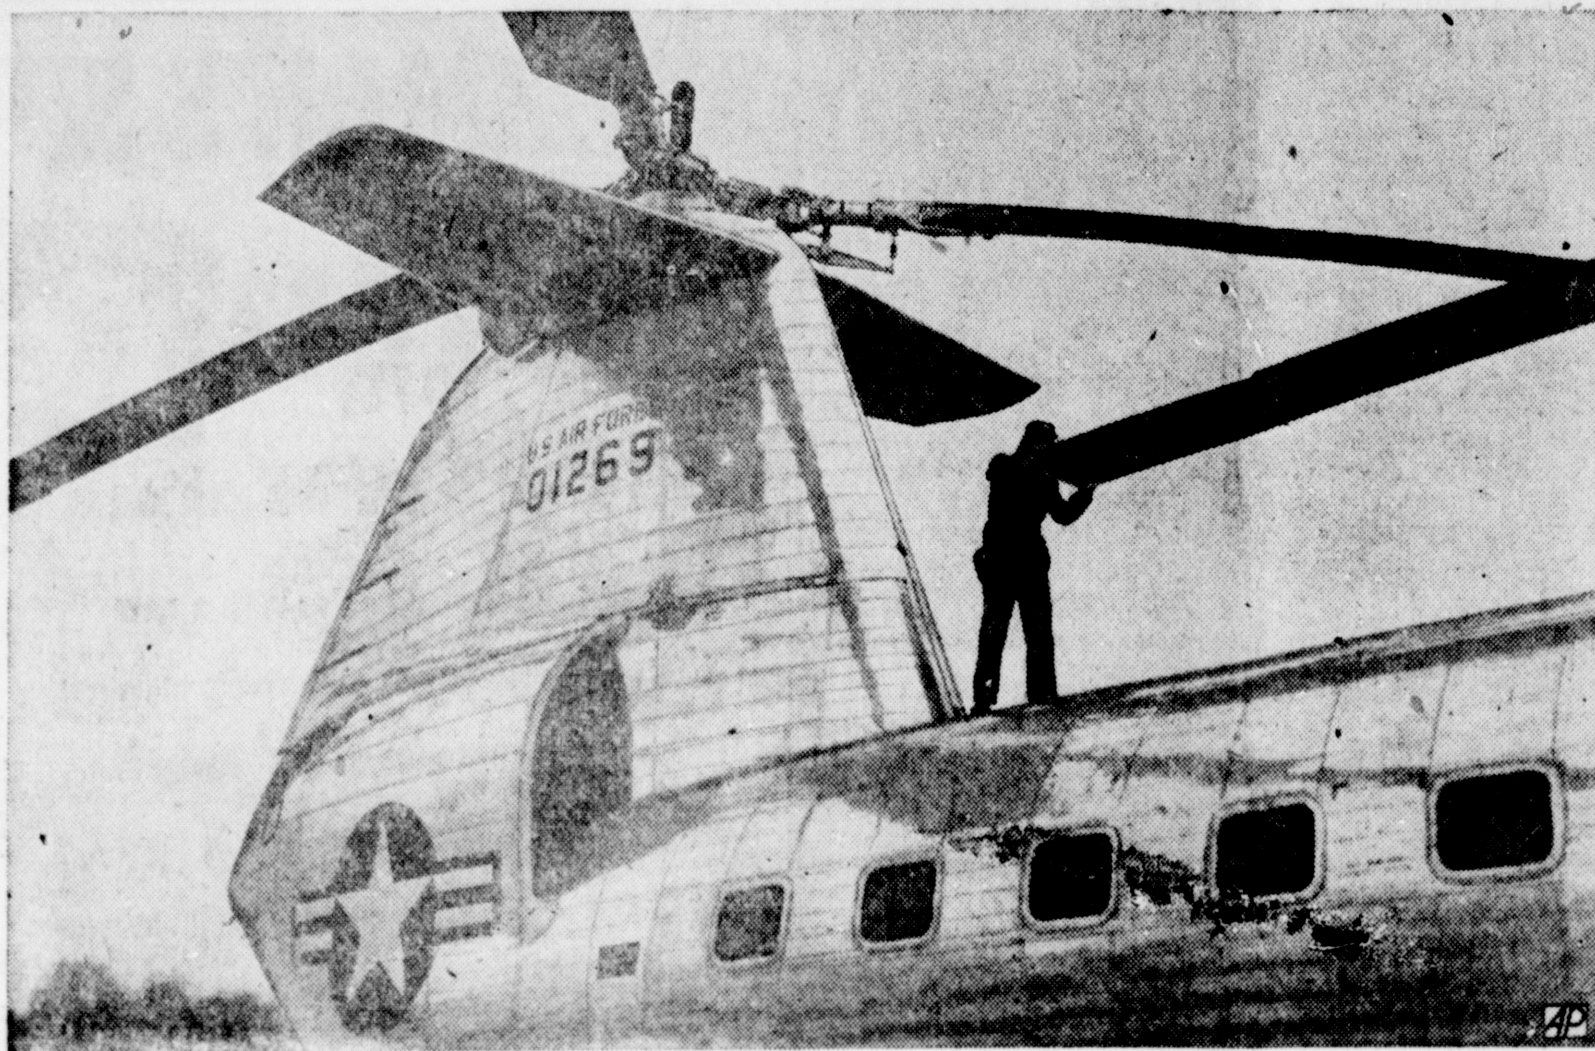

But now after I've sat with her during a good long lunch, my idea has changed, and to "voice" I add "face"—curls, dimples, bright eyes, bewitching glances.

Spanish-born Miss de los Angeles—or Mrs. Enrique Magrina, and her husband came to lunch, too—has black hair cut short, cap-like, and done in a dizzy twist of every-which-way curls.

Her English leaves a little to be desired—but that isn't true of anything else about her. But what does she need English for? She says a friend at the Met—maybe Cesare Siepi or Cesare Valletti, who are great jokers—will all at once say: "I can't talk any more, my hands are too tired." She, too, uses her hands, and she does a beaut of a shrug. But with her it's more in her eyes, her brows, her mouth.

"A Little City"
After New York, she says, for example, Barcelona is such a little city—the tips of her forefingers come close together and she lifts them up near her eyes as if she could hardly see the space between.

The people in the movie houses are beginning to notice her and point at her, and "I not like it!"—and her eyes roll wide and white, and she doesn't need to know how to say she's shy and scared to death, for she looks it.

Or her father, Bernardo, who's said to be quite a character in Barcelona, is a caretaker at the university there. He was a caretaker when she was born, when she was a big girl, is still now that she's a big singer. The day is probably coming, if it isn't already here, when this caretaker's daughter could buy the whole university. But will her father quit work and take it easy?—Answer: A sideways glance, a sad turn of the head, a bright-eyed look that threatens tears, a miserable droop to the corners of her mouth. In other words, or in words, the old man is a meany who sticks his mops and brooms, too set in his ways to change even for his pretty daughter.

Four Languages

Miss de los Angeles isn't putting this on; this is the way she is. But she can talk, with a fluent rush in Spanish, well in French and Italian, and understandably in English.

She doesn't like to travel, she complains, but she is on the go almost every week in the year.

She doesn't, or didn't, like to sing before crowds, though now of course, she doesn't like not to. This began when she was a child.

Her mother, though not a professional singer, had a beautiful voice, and in her happy family everyone was always singing—Miss de los Angeles pronounces it "sing-ging." What she liked best was to accompany her father on his nighttime rounds of the university classrooms which at those hours were empty. There she loved to sing where nobody could hear her—at home when her father asked her to sing for guests, she got out of it whenever she could.

Singing to those deserted seats and bare walls, she believes, gave her a sharpened sense of acoustics. Her husband was starting a legal career, which he has since had to drop, when they met. A friend of theirs first pointed her out to him, he took one look and said, "That's the girl I'm going to marry." The friend promptly told Miss de los Angeles, who was intrigued. She began to notice the man, as she supposed, but the signals were mixed, somehow, and the man she was watching, and who happened also to be keeping his eyes on her, was not Magrina, but an unknown third party. Introduced at last, she exclaimed: "With this I do not marry."

But with this she did marry and they are living happily ever since—since December, 1948.

GERMANS LAUD CONCERTS OF AMERICAN GIRL

By JANE EADS

WASHINGTON (AP)—Pretty Maria Kopulos, 21, concert pianist on a tour sponsored by the U. S. government, found German audiences keenly responsive to American music.

One of a group of American artists selected to present the best of our culture has to offer in music, poetry, drama and related fields, Maria recently returned from a five-month German tour. She was enthusiastic over her reception in more than 35 German communities. "The young Germans always turned out for the concerts," she told me on her return to Washington, where she lives with her Greek-born parents, Mr. and Mrs. James Kopulos. "Most of them had saved money to buy the score of some of the music played. They were attentive, extremely courteous and interested also in the artists as individuals."

Maria played not only in the big cities but in rural areas and says even there the audiences never numbered less than 400. "I have about 200 press notices, all good," she exclaimed. "I am very fortunate. German critics either like you or they don't. They are very outspoken."

For her tour Maria chose a new work, "Variations on a Hurdy Gurdy," by Karol Rathaus, naturalized American born in Germany; and "Sonata for Piano," by the American-born and educated Samuel Barber.

Studied At Juilliard

Maria has studied under scholarships at the Juilliard School of Music and the Mannes School of Music for professionals in New York, one summer at Aspen, Colo., and at the Salzburg Music Academy in Austria where she was the only American pianist in 1953.

"Americans led in all the other musical competitive scholarships for Salzburg that year," she said. "Of the 15 presented in the final recital of the best work in the school, 13 of the musicians were Americans."

As for the future, Maria says she has "many things in the fire,"—offers to do some work in television and a tour of U. S. Information Service centers and embassies in Spain, Italy, Yugoslavia, Greece, Africa, Egypt and Turkey among them. She also has a request to go back to Germany to play.

OBSERVATORY CLAIM

MOSCOW (AP)—The Soviet Union is completing, near Bakhchisarai in the Crimea, what it calls the biggest astronomical observatory in Europe, says the newspaper, in "Soviet Culture."

Oceanographer Says Lake Favors Canada

ANN ARBOR, Mich. (AP)—A Cornell University professor says the waters of Lake Huron sweep the Michigan shore clean and carry plant food to Canadian fish.

Associate Prof. John C. Ayers, oceanographer at Cornell, gave the results of the University of Michigan's Great Lakes Research Institute study which he headed. It was the first comprehensive survey of any of the Great Lakes.

Because of the water currents, Ayers said, fish on the Canadian side of Lake Huron are better fed than those on the Michigan side.

Students Attempt Texas Earthquakes

DALLAS, Tex. (AP)—Texas' only seismograph station at Southern Methodist University campus records about two earthquakes per day, marking their intensity with a wavy line which jumps sharply when a sharp tremor is recorded.

It would average more if some of the students had their way, according to Prof. John Harrington, supervisor of the station. Harrington says it is virtually a fulltime job shaking off would-be earthquake-makers who shake the machine to make it jump.

Louisiana has a town named Arizona.

SAYS REPORT ON SALK VACCINE IS NOT WRITTEN

NEW YORK (AP)—Dr. Thomas Francis Jr., head of the ultra-secret task of compiling the results of the Salk polio vaccine trials, says the official report scheduled for release April 12—has not been written.

He said yesterday from the University of Michigan at Ann Arbor that "we know nothing about" a New York World-Telegram and Sun story saying the vaccine trials proved 100 per cent effective.

The newspaper, in a copyrighted story, said it received information from an "unimpeachable source."

Said Francis: "No information has been released from the polio evaluation center."

"The official report has not been written, and if there is any question I refer all persons to the same unimpeachable source from which the allegedly original information came."

From New Orleans, Washington, D.C., Oklahoma and Indiana came word that polio had developed in several youngsters getting the vaccine in last summer's big test. This would not necessarily mean the vaccine is not effective. Doctors administering the shots in some areas, but not all, did not know whether the children were getting vaccine or dummy injections. Similar reports come from Texas.

Nearly two million children took part in the polio trials, with 210,000 getting dummy shots and about 1,800,000 getting neither the real vaccine nor the dummy shots.

The newspaper said not one of the 440,000 children given the Salk vaccine had developed polio, whereas 84 children in such a number might have done so.

PORT MYERS, Fla. (AP)—It was a mighty chilly night for the parade. Taking a realistic view of the situation, the Fort Myers News-Press used this banner headline over the story:

PRESS SEMINAR IS HELD TODAY

UNIVERSITY PARK, Pa. (AP)—A "press responsibility" seminar opened at Pennsylvania State University today with 50 Pennsylvania newspaper editors in attendance.

James C. Hagerty, President Eisenhower's press secretary, will be principal speaker at the two-day event, sponsored by the Pennsylvania Society of Newspaper Editors and the university's extension division.

Among features of the meeting will be a panel where readers will tell the editors "What I want in my newspaper."

Newspapermen slated to discuss various fields of their work include: James Marlow, Associated Press columnist, Washington Bureau; Edward J. Donohoe, city editor, Scranton Times; James M. Driscoll, editor, Connelville Daily Courier; and Jerome Weinstein, editor, Centre Daily Times, State College and president of the Newspapers Editors Society.

SENATOR WILL HIT IKE AGAIN

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. Neely (D-W.Va.) said today Republican critics of his blasts at President Eisenhower haven't heard anything yet.

He said he doesn't intend to apologize for questioning Eisenhower's churchgoing. Such an apology was suggested in the Senate yesterday by Sen. Edward Martin (R-Pa.), who said Neely had "struck the lowest of blows" at the President.

"There is just as much chance of my apologizing as there is of the world coming to an end today—in fact a little less chance," Neely said.

"When all of the Eisenhower coattail riders have got done blowing off, I am going to answer them comprehensively. They will have some new targets to shoot at after I get through."

Republicans have criticized Neely for saying in a speech at Cleveland earlier in the week that Eisenhower never had been a church member until elected and now is pictured attending services almost every Sunday. Several churchmen also came to Eisenhower's defense.

Attention Boys!

Don't enlist in the Regular Army until you've graduated from high school.

This is the advice Army recruiters give to young men attending high school who are applying for enlistment before they complete their high school course.

Men who graduate from high school have a much broader field to choose from when enlisting. High school grads have a choice of 100 Army technical schools and are given their choice of school before they are accepted. And, when they are in the Army, they will soon learn that their high school education will serve them well, not only in advancements to higher pay but on their job as well.

How many persons die as a result of fire in the United States every year?
How many of these are children?

These questions are asked over and over again. Their answer is this:
It is estimated that 11,000 persons die as a result of fire and, of that number, children five years old or younger account for at least 20 per cent of the total.

Why are these children so often fire victims?

One reason is their utter helplessness as babies, more often their inquisitiveness and lack of fear of fire. And if trapped, for instance in a burning building, they are powerless to help themselves.

Children of this age, of course, should never be left at home alone at any time. But before entrusting their youngsters to babysitters, parents should . . .

1. Know the sitter; make inquiries about training and family background.
2. Employ only sitters who have a sense of responsibility and who like children.
3. Try to have the same sitter regularly if possible, and one who lives nearby.
4. Have a preliminary "get acquainted" interview with sitter, the children and pets, especially the watch-dog.
5. Give instructions orally and leave them in writing.
6. Show sitter all exits and how to get children out of house in case of fire.
7. Give the sitter the telephone number of the fire department, family doctor and place to which they (parents or adult members of the family) are going. Also what neighbor to call in the event of any emergency.

8. If there is no phone, explain to sitter other means of notifying the fire department in case of a fire.

9. Caution sitter against permitting child to play with matches, electric cords, or other electric appliances. Also, tell her to keep the child out of the kitchen, if possible.

10. If sitter is to bathe youngster, make certain she has had such experience.

11. Leave a first aid kit with sitter and explain how to take care of simple burns, cuts, bruises.

12. Be sure sitter understands that in a fire emergency she should get the child out of the house, then call the fire department, then notify parents.

13. Provide flashlights for use in case lighting should fail.

14. Always come home at the hour agreed upon; telephone if delayed.

15. Make suitable and safe arrangements for accompanying the sitter home.

HEMINGWAY'S BROTHER WRITES VINTER'S GUIDE

By CYNTHIA LOWRY
The Associated Press

There's a new Hemingway book out. It's about alcohol—the title, in fact, is "Drink It Yourself!" And not only did Hemingway write it, but he also illustrated it, typed it and is his own publisher and book-seller.

This, however, isn't quite the literary event it would seem. The author-illustrator-publisher is Leicester Hemingway, youngest of the six Oak Park, Ill., Hemingways. He has an older brother named Ernest, who is also a writer.

Leicester, who lives with his family in Silver Spring, Md., is an amateur vintner, a hobbyist who has picked up recipes for turning the darndest things into wines which he swears are palatable.

Home-Made Brew

"Drink It Yourself!" for instance, recommends homemade wines made from any of the following: red clover, marigold petals, roses, primroses, carnations, hollyhocks, columbine, iris, sweet peas, peonies, chrysanthemum, tiger lily, jacks-in-the-pulpit, watercress, parsley, horseradish, rhubarb, lilac, hydrangeas, mountain laurel, potatoes, cabbages, peppers, beets, turnips, parsnips, eggplant, okra, cucumbers, asparagus, squash and Brussels sprouts.

Wine also can be made from dried fruits, ripe fruits (including melons), berries, leaves, seeds, sap, grass and ferns.

If you want to make wine for people you don't like, the ingredients can include poison toadstools, deadly nightshade, poison sumac or the sap of evergreen trees which bear cones (remember what they

the people who actually oversee the education of your children? They're our local school board members—neighbors who work long and hard to solve current school problems.

But beyond that, they have the tremendous responsibility of planning and carrying out the long-range program that our schools must have to meet the needs of at least the next ten years.

Each of us must help, too. And we can start by getting to know our school board better . . . and giving it our support and understanding.

Peach wine happens to be Leicester's favorite homemade variety. He points out, too, that grapes make good wine.

Basic Recipe
His basic recipe for five gallons of wine consists of 30 oranges, 12 pounds of sugar, two cakes of yeast, and he figures the resulting 25 bottles of wine cost nine cents each. Of course, more equipment is needed, like tricky glass containers with copper tubing, corks, bottles, casks, racks and the like.

Leicester doesn't figure this Hemingway book—or booklet, really—will win any literary prizes or even be touted for its unusual style.

"But the wine makers think it's fine," said the 39-year-old hobbyist. "It will make more people enjoy good wines."

DOG SPOTS CASH

LA PORTE, Ind. (AP)—Nine youngsters were playing with a stray dog in a field near Rolling Prairie last May when the dog dug up $587 in currency. The children turned the money over to the sheriff but no one claimed it so the sheriff divided it among the nine children. He added a little of his own and they got $65 apiece.

U.S. DECISION TO DEFEND TWO ISLES IS VAGUE

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst

WASHINGTON (AP)—It is fairly certain President Eisenhower hasn't decided whether this country will fight to defend the Matsuo and Quemoy islands from Red Chinese attack. He's been vague on it. The vagueness has a virtue.

What isn't clear is whether the vagueness is deliberate or the result of putting off a decision on an unpleasant problem until it occurs. If it's the latter, the vagueness might turn out to be anything but a virtue.

There is no doubt about this country's determination to help Chiang Kai-shek and his Nationalists defend Formosa. It is pledged by treaty to do so. But it is not committed to defending the small islands in the Formosa Strait.

May Stop Reds

This is the virtue of vagueness on the islands: The Reds have threatened to take the islands. A warning from Eisenhower that they'd have to fight if they tried it might force them, out of self-consciousness, to make the try.

So long as he doesn't dare them, they can try to save face by foregoing force and trying to get the islands through peaceful negotiation and perhaps a promise to be good boys.

In that case, Eisenhower might let them have the islands, particularly since this country's allies are cool about fighting for them.

But if the vagueness about defending the islands is merely a reluctance to make a decision until the moment of crisis, the United States could find itself in the same embarrassing position it did in Indochina.

The war there, between the French and Communist-led Vietminh, lasted for years. In that time both the Truman and Eisenhower administrations had time to make full plans in case the Communists began to crush the French.

If such plans were ever made,

Eisenhower Signs Unchanged Tax Bill

WASHINGTON (AP)—There will be no excise tax cuts tomorrow, and corporations will continue to pay income taxes at the rate of 52 per cent.

The House completed congressional action, and President Eisenhower signed into law last night, a bill which continues both at their present rates until April 1, 1956. They had been scheduled to drop at midnight tonight.

The House voted 386-8 to pass the tax extension bill without the $20-a-person income tax cut which it had written into the measure earlier by a 210-205 vote. The Senate rejected the tax cut, and a conference committee agreed to eliminate it.

All eight negative votes in the House were cast by Democrats.

Must Take Doors Off Abandoned Iceboxes

HARRISBURG (AP)—It was illegal in Pennsylvania today to abandon a refrigerator with first removing the doors.

Gov. George M. Leader yesterday signed into law a bill which says any person abandoning an ice box with doors "in any place accessible to children" is liable to a $50 fine or 30 days in jail or both.

"This is good legislation," commented Leader. "Countless lives will be saved by it. I want to commend the legislators who sponsored the bill, and in particular, the public spirited citizens who supported it."

The signing took place at a short ceremony in the governor's office. Sponsors of the act were Sens. Albert R. Pechan (R—Armstrong), John H. Dent, (D—Westmoreland) and G. Robert Watkins (R—Delaware).

There was no evidence of it when the crisis came and the French began to totter. In that moment Dulles went dashing off to Europe to see if Britain would join the United States in intervening to stop the Vietminh. Britain wouldn't.

This country did nothing and the Communists got half of Indochina.

MONROE RIDES PINK ELEPHANT

NEW YORK (AP)—The band stopped playing at Madison Square Garden last night and 18,000 circus fans held their breath. Then they exploded into tumultuous applause. It was not a tight-rope artist or a smart equestrienne that stole the show in the 1953 circus opening.

Movie queen Marilyn Monroe rode onto the sawdust arena on top of a huge elephant, painted bright pink for the occasion. She wore a specially designed black-and-white leotard (a form-fitting circus costume) and black net stockings, and blew kisses left and right.

The cavernous Garden, with its maze of ropes and guy wires suspended from the rafters, nearly shook from the ovation.

Then the band picked up again and the Ringling Bros. and Bar-

Steal Safe And Car; Lose Both; Miss $10

MARTINSBURG, Pa. (AP)—Muscular burglars lugged an empty 600-pound safe 30 feet to a car last night at the Quarry Motor Co.

The car, a new one owned by David L. Quarry, was found later, wrecked on a road a few miles away. The safe was intact. Quarry said its weight probably caused the car to overturn.

He said the burglars, in their haste, left behind the only cash in the shop—$10 in a cashbox which had been on top of the safe.

num & Bailey "greatest show on earth" went on.

The opening night attraction this year was the "dream circus," produced by showman Mike Todd for the benefit of the Arthritis and Rheumatism Foundation.

It featured comedian Milton Berle as the ringmaster and a number of other television and film greats, led by blonde Miss Monroe on her pink elephant.

MAY RECALL BETTING BILL

HARRISBURG (AP)—A Democratic senator predicted today that the defeated horse race referendum bill would be put into a position for reconsideration when the Senate returns from recess April 18.

"It can be expected that the move will be made to have the bill reconsidered when the Senate returns from recess," said Sen. Joseph J. Yoeke (D-Northampton).

The bi-partisan bill, calling for a referendum on whether pari-mutuel betting on horse races should be legalized in Pennsylvania, was defeated in the Senate last week, 26-22.

Sen. John H. Dent, Democratic floor leader, and Yoeke changed their votes to the majority in a parliamentary move to put the bill in a position for reconsideration. Action will have to be taken either the day the Senate returns from recess or the next day. Senate rules limit to five legislative days the time in which such action may be taken. Three legislative days already have passed since the bill was voted down.

Saves His Pants In Cleaner's Fire

UNION, S.C. (AP)—Fire Chief J. W. Sullivan entered a smoke-filled dry cleaning establishment on his hands and knees to find the source of a fire. Inside, he saw a man checking slips on a long row of clothing. The man selected a pair of trousers and walked out. Later he sought out the owner of the shop and paid the charges for his trousers, explaining he hadn't wanted them damaged by smoke.

Lloyds register shows that 1,233 ships were built in the world during 1954.

"Uncle Tom's Cabin" was one of America's all-time best sellers, with 3,000,000 copies distributed.

Asks Migrant Labor Law Enforcement

HARRISBURG (AP)—Stricter enforcement of laws pertaining to migratory labor has been urged by Gov. George M. Leader to cure what he called a "serious problem."

Leader told a meeting of the Interdepartmental Committee on Migratory Labor, Tuesday that:

"I am definitely interested in his problem and I hope this committee sets itself to the task of im-

Says U.S. May Be Prepared For War

CARLISLE, Pa. (AP)—Gen. Matthew B. Ridgeway, U. S. chief of staff, says America "must be prepared for total war if it is to preserve the peace."

Ridgeway yesterday told 50 military and civilian leaders attending the national strategy seminar at the Army War College:

"For the present, at least, the nation has no recourse but to improve its nuclear capabilities in the face of an implacable enemy." The three-day seminar closed today with an address by Lt. Gen. Floyd L. Parks, commanding general of the Second Army.

proving migratory labor conditions in the commonwealth."

Among problems affecting migratory labor in Pennsylvania are sanitation, garbage disposal, housing, child care and health facilities.

MANY PERSONS HAVE BIG STAKE IN AUW BATTLE

NEW YORK (AP)—Many other places besides Detroit have a big stake in the battle shaping up today between the auto makers and the CIO United Auto Workers.

Auto company executives contend the guaranteed annual wage would be too heavy a burden for the industry—especially if the present high demand for cars should fizzle out later.

The union is also expected to ask, when negotiations start within a few days, for a pay boost (some say for 10 cents an hour), higher pensions and more liberal hospital and vacation benefits.

Prosperity Is Cause
Present prosperity in the auto industry—at least among the Big Three—is the basis for the union demands. Cars are rolling from the production lines in record numbers now. And dealers' sales last winter were sensationally high for that formerly dull season.

Many hope for a compromise to come out of the negotiations so that a strike won't develop. They

Allentown Girl Wins Poster Prize

HARRISBURG (AP)—Phyllis Luckenbach, an Allentown High School senior, won first prize in the first annual State Handicapped Poster contest. She will receive a $200 bond.

The state Labor and Industry Department announced the winner yesterday and said the contest attracted nearly 700 entries from 99 high schools.

contend that this year's experience shows that customers' buying habits aren't as seasonal as once thought, so that production schedules could be changed.

If a work stoppage does come, its effect on the general prosperity would be quick. The fastest stepping parts of the economy now are the construction industry and the auto industry, which in turn sparked off the unexpectedly fast increase in steel production.

All across the nation, but particularly concentrated in the Midwest, are communities whose principal payroll comes from factories that supply materials or parts for the car assembly lines. These payrolls would shrink fast if the auto industry is struck. And merchants in these communities would feel it fast.

STATE SEEKS U.S. PLANT SITE

WASHINGTON (AP)—Federal officials today considered pleas by Pennsylvania officials for locating defense and atomic energy installations in the Keystone State.

John R. Torquato, Pennsylvania secretary of labor and industry, met yesterday with representatives of about a dozen federal agencies and then talked with Secretary of Labor James P. Mitchell.

Torquato was accompanied by A. Allen Suloway, executive director of the state Bureau of Employment Security.

At a conference in the Labor Department, agencies represented included defense, small business and others that deal with community problems. The conference was presided over by Asst. Secretary of Labor Rocco C. Siciliano.

Torquato contended, the told reporters later, that Pennsylvania is being overlooked in the government's aircraft, guided missile and

Daylight Time Will Not Be Extended

HARRISBURG (AP)—Pennsylvania will ignore plans to extend Daylight Saving Time beyond Sept. 24 as has been proposed in some cities.

David V. Randall, secretary to Gov. George M. Leader, said yesterday state employees will observe Daylight Saving Time from April 25 to Sept. 24. Clocks in state offices, however, will actually show Standard Time.

atomic programs, and urged that Pennsylvania be considered as the site for future installations.

Not only is the Keystone State a logical location for such installations, he said, but new industries are needed to put the state's unemployed to work.

Torquato also cited what he called the need for preserving Pennsylvania's coal reserves as a national asset. The Pennsylvania official said he found Mitchell "well informed and interested" in Pennsylvania's problem.

Bill Provides For Pollution Commission

HARRISBURG (AP)—A bill to create a three-member air pollution control commission to regulate smoke, dust and fumes is before the Senate.

Sen. Joseph J. Yasko (D—Northampton), offered the bill yesterday. The proposed commission would be part of the state Health Department. Air pollution control districts could be established in various counties.

County commissioners would be authorized to appropriate money to county districts while the state would appropriate necessary funds for operation of the commissions.

HARRISBURG (AP)—The General State Authority received bids yesterday for expansion of a steam generation and electrical systems at the Pennsylvania State University.

Unofficial low bids were: General construction, Wilson Construction Co., Inc., Johnstown, $12,400; heating, John F. Miles, Kulpmont, $31,000; plumbing, Mulch Brothers, Hollidaysburg, $2,832; electrical construction, Michael Electrical Contractors, Bellefonte, $4,750.

Ike Wants Assurance Big 4 Conference Will Contribute To "Peace Hopes" Of World

By JOHN M. HIGHTOWER

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Western Powers now seem certain to meet with Russia on critical world issues in a few months, but if President Eisenhower is to go into a Big Four conference he apparently will want powerful reasons for doing so.

Eisenhower has indicated he wants evidence the conference will make a positive contribution to peace hopes, that a sound preparatory basis has been laid and that there are no unnecessary dangers of bad results.

For two years the President has expressed readiness to go anywhere to meet with anyone if there was hope it would promote peace. However, as at previous conferences, he emphasized yesterday the difficulties in the way of top-level talks. This time he brought up a concern that is much in the minds of diplomats—the danger that a conference which is ill prepared may go wrong and make things worse instead of better.

Insist. On Agenda

He specifically cited the difficulties of holding a conference without some kind of agenda, or list of issues for discussion.

His chief advisers believe there has not yet been any evidence of real change in Soviet aims or policies. The President clearly wants exploratory talks to find out whether under the surface the Soviets have changed or may change. But his reservations about personal involvement suggest he feels exploration properly a job for his secretary of state.

Diplomats see many dangers in a Big Four meeting, among them:

1. The possibility that a meeting between Eisenhower and Soviet Premier Bulganin may be taken to mean agreement by the United States of Communist domination of the satellite countries. The Eisenhower administration is committed to keep alive the hope of liberation.

2. People may expect too much from a Big Four meeting. This danger no longer applies so much to foreign ministers session, some of which have failed in the past. Failure "at the summit" could produce violent reactions.

3. The pressure for success would be very great—perhaps tending to make leaders strive for agreement even at the cost of unwise concessions.

Doesn't Treat His People Like Dogs

PORTLAND, Ore. (AP)—George T. Lamb, 61, a carpenter, went before Municipal Judge Philip Bagley on a charge of driving 35 miles an hour in a 25-mile zone.

Lamb, admitting his offense, said he understood courts had found a dog was entitled to his first bite and he thought a motorist should be entitled to his first violation without penalty.

"I wouldn't want anyone to think I treat people like dogs," said the judge. "I'll treat you like a human. Fine: $2."

POINT BENEFITS OF GUARANTEED WAGE PROPOSAL

By NORMAN WALKER

CLEVELAND (AP)—The CIO United Auto Workers said today its guaranteed wage plan, besides stabilizing worker pay, would discourage "run-away shops" from folding up in one community and transferring to another.

The argument was advanced in a resolution due to be approved by the UAW convention.

The resolution reaffirms support for the year-around pay plan which the union already has served on major auto firms as its main 1955 contract demand. It also sums up prior union arguments that the annual pay guarantee would protect from pay loss those employees displaced by push-button electronic machines, the new production method known as "automation."

Ghost Towns Feared

"Automation could also result in the widespread creation of ghost towns as management, in locating its new plants, seeks to get away from workers familiar with older systems of production," the resolution said.

"Guaranteed employment will protect investments in homes, local businesses and community facilities in the existing centers of production by making it costly for management to leave one group of workers stranded while a new work force is hired at a new location."

The UAW convention gave President Walter Reuther's administration a vote of confidence yesterday, electing all Reuther-endorsed candidates despite spirited opposition.

NEW ACCOUNT SYSTEM FOR PA.

HARRISBURG (AP)—A new state accountant general department, charged with installing an integrated system of accounts, has been proposed to the Legislature in a Republican-sponsored plan.

Reps. Albert W. Johnson (R-McKean) and Norman Wood (R-Lancaster) yesterday offered the House companion bills to create the department and empower it to pass upon all requisitions for state payments.

The suggested department also would be directed to place the state's accounting system on an accrual basis rather than the present calendar basis which covers two years starting every June 1.

Other new House bills would: Require the governor to submit a detailed budget and complete fiscal program as soon as possible after the General Assembly organizes—Johnson and Wood.

Require any 1,500 foot stretch of primary highway with a 3 per cent incline to be at least four lanes wide—Albert E. Strausser (R-Columbia).

START UNION DRIVE

PITTSBURGH (AP)—The CIO Government and Civic Employees Organizing Committee has started a drive to unionize 250,000 municipal, state and federal employees in Pennsylvania, Ohio, West Virginia, New York and Michigan.

MIDGET HIPPO — Betty D'Amore views a pygmy hippopotamus brought by John Hewetson from Liberia on a Pan American plane to New York. He hopes a zoo will take animal.

SEN. GEORGE IS BACKING IKE ON TALK ABOUT WAR

By JACK BELL

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. George (D-Ga.) said today he supports President Eisenhower's position in not saying now whether the United States and Matsu if they are attacked by the Reds.

George, chairman of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, spoke in an interview in advance of a White House briefing of Senate leaders of both parties.

"I think the President is right about not making any commitments at this time," George said. "Of course, you can't keep people from speculating when high officials make the statements about the situation that they do."

Reference To Carney
This was a reference to last week's predictions, traced to Admiral Robert B. Carney, chief of naval operations, that the Chinese Communists may attack the Nationalist-held coastal islands around April 15.

Eisenhower told his news conference yesterday he doesn't believe the cause of peace is served by "talking too much in terms of speculation about such things."

The President said he doesn't know that there won't be an attack—"but I do say that if anyone is predicting it will be that soon... they have information that I do not have."

Sen. Kefauver (D-Tenn.) told the Senate yesterday some people who hold high offices in the Eisenhower administration are "plotting and planning" to involve this country in war.

Some "Eager For War"
Without naming them, he declared:

"There are forces in this administration so powerful and apparently so eager for a war with China that they are becoming almost impossible to resist."

"That the United States should be plunged into a war over Matsu and Quemoy ought to be unthinkable."

able. Yet there are those in high places in the present administration itself who are plotting and planning to bring such a war about whatever the risks involved.

Kefauver noted that Eisenhower has reserved to himself the final decision as to U.S. action in case the Reds attack.

"But the conclusion is inescapable that the present war party is attempting to create a situation and an atmosphere in which the President would have no choice but to follow them," he declared.

Nearly 70 per cent of accidental deaths in the United States come in the victims' nonworking hours. Victims of the common cold can infect others 24 hours before their own noses start running.

Would Put 12-Year Limit On Congress

WASHINGTON (AP)—Rep. Curtis (R-Mo.) has proposed a constitutional amendment requiring senators and House members to take a two-year leave after 12 consecutive years of service. After the leave, they could return if re-elected. He said the plan would get long-time members out of "a fascinating rut."

"On The Waterfront" Wins Oscar Awards; Grace Kelly Marlon Brando Win "Oscars"

By JAMES BACON

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—"On the Waterfront," the movie that Hollywood almost turned down, today held eight Oscars—including Marlon Brando's first—to tie the all-time Academy Awards record.

The brutal, often-sadistic story of labor racketeering on New York's docks made a rout of the 27th annual awards presentation last night. The eight awards, plus one honorary plaque, equaled the record of "Gone With the Wind" in 1939.

Only Grace Kelly, the dowdy wife of "The Country Girl," was able to steal a smattering of the glory away from the hard-hitting drama of the longshoremen's unions.

The reserved Miss Kelly, with tears in her eyes, took home the best actress award. Even the honor could not shake her ladylike composure. When photographers asked her to kiss Brando on the cheek, she rebelled politely: "I believe he should kiss me."

Brando, with unrestrained pleasure, enthusiastically kissed Miss Kelly time after time while flashbulbs popped.

Crosby In Running

Right up to awards time, it had been an unpredictable race for the top actress and actor awards. Bing Crosby, who played an alcoholic actor in "The Country Girl," was in the running against Brando, and Judy Garland was given a 50-50 chance of beating out Miss Kelly. Judy was the sentimental choice for her role in "A Star Is Born."

Miss Garland viewed the awards by television in a hospital where her son was born Tuesday. She said afterward that she wasn't disappointed when Miss Kelly won. "After all, I was presented with my own special Oscar," she said.

in reference to the new baby. "I thought Grace Kelly deserved it. She did a magnificent job in 'The Country Girl.'"

Wins Other Awards

"Waterfront" was named best picture of the year. It also received awards for top actor, film editing, art direction, cinematography, story and screenplay, best direction and best supporting actress. And it won a plaque for set decoration.

Eva Marie Saint, who supplied the romantic interest in "Waterfront," was named best supporting actress for her first film role. She was gowning in maternity dress and exclaimed happily at New York's Center Theater:

"I'm so happy I may have my baby right here."

Edmond O'Brien, the only nominee the forecasters greed on, won the best supporting actor Oscar as the harried procuring press agent of "The Barefoot Contessa."

In other awards, Walt Disney made his familiar trips to the podium. He added two more Oscars this year, bringing his all-time total to 24.

"Three Coins in the Fountain" was named the best song and "The High and the Mighty" the best music score.

The Academy, via an honorary award, partially rectified one of its most grievous oversights. It made a special award to Greta Garbo "for her series of luminous and unforgettable performances."

Miss Garbo, often acclaimed as the screen's greatest dramatic actress, never won an Oscar in her long career.

In many areas of Southeast Asia there is half an acre of land per person compared to four acres per person in the United States.

The Not-So-Good Old Days

Back in the so-called "good old days," things were different. If you had either diabetes or pernicious anemia, your days were numbered. Since there was very little protection against the ravages of epidemic diseases, the average life expectancy was about fifty years.

Today your life expectancy is about sixty-five years, and it is increasing approximately six months each year because of medical progress.

We are proud of our contribution to present-day medical care.

Bill Of Sale For Shorn Wool Should Show Net Proceeds Says Adams County Farm Agent Zettle

By FRANK S. ZETTLE
Adams County Farm Agent

Bills of sale are mighty important documents this year... especially for wool producers who want to apply for shorn wool incentive payments... and lamb and yearling payments provided for in the National Wool Act of 1954.

For incentive payments on shorn wool, the usual bill of sale ought to show clearly the net proceeds to the producer at his local market or wool pool. This will give the information required on filing applications with the local Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Office.

Now, about payments on lambs and yearlings. You have to make certain that the bills of sale clearly state that the lambs or yearlings were purchased for slaughter, and had full pelts of wool. A full wool pelt means one that either has been shorn... or if it has been shorn, has a one and one-half inch growth of wool. And if you sell, you will need to have owned the lambs or yearlings for at least thirty days prior to their sale.

Deadline For Marketing
If you want to be eligible for incentive payments under the new program... you must market your wool on or after the first of April coming up. You can file application with your ASC office any time after you sell the wool.

The percentage to be paid on shorn wool... and the rate of lamb and yearling payment per hundredweight... will be determined in the middle of 1956. That's when the average price received by growers for shorn wool sold in the 1955 marketing year is reported by the Agricultural Marketing Service. Payments to producers will be started about that time.

May Lose Calves
Since beef breeders make their profits from the calf crop, and profits are largest when all the calves are saved, a high calving percentage is one of the most important factors in the success of any beef herd. To get the most out of your calf:

1. Be on hand at calving time to give any help that may be needed in the birth process, especially with first-calf heifers. Otherwise, some calves may be lost.

2. See that calving quarters are clean. If cows calve inside, have the pen or shed clean and dry and with plenty of fresh bedding. Sanitation and careful management eliminate much of the bad luck encountered by many breeders.

3. See that the calf eats within an hour or so after calving. Applying tincture of iodine to the navel of newborn calves will help reduce the source of infection.

4. Dehorn and castrate calves when they are young and easy to handle, and there is less shock and set-back. Use the methods you find most successful, but make sure the job is completed.

Do not "spare the knife, and spoil the breed." Unless a bull calf is an exceptionally outstanding calf from an outstanding sire and dam, do not save him for a bull. Too many mediocre bulls are saved that should have been made into steers.

Family Farm To Stay
Despite the current trend toward bigger farms, as measured in terms of acres, investment in machinery and equipment or the volume of production, the family farm is not on the way out. On the contrary, these changes are strengthening

Farm Costs Increase
While all farm costs have increased since 1940, wages for hired labor have increased more than 300 per cent. Machinery costs have increased little more than 100 per cent. This situation led farmers to use less labor but to increase their investments in machinery and equipment. But falling farm prices in the last few years have made it unprofitable for many farmers to own some of the larger items of farm equipment unless they can buy or rent more land.

Two-thirds or more of the farms sold in most areas of the country are being purchased by farmers rather than investment buyers.

Farm enlargement is the objective of many buyers. This has been more marked in the wheat areas and in the eastern corn belt than in the dairy and general farming areas which offer less opportunity for mechanized crop production. But in these areas the trend is toward specialization to obtain a greater volume of business with lower costs per production unit. Larger farms means a smaller number of farms. But rather than spelling the end of the family farm this actually strengthens its position.

Abbottstown

ABBOTTSTOWN — The Ladies of the Reformed Church conducted a stand at the Ervin Baker sale near Pine Run, Wednesday.

Herbert Meekly, a former resident of town, is a patient in the Hanover Hospital. His condition is reported serious.

Confirmation services will be held at the Reformed Church Sunday morning at 9 o'clock. Holy Communion will be Easter Sunday at 10:15 a.m. On Palm Sunday an offering will be taken for Henry Alwine, a member of the congregation, who lost all of his possessions when his home was destroyed by fire last week. The local fire company is also making a drive for aid. A member of the fire company will be at the fire hall every night to receive donations.

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Topper and son have moved to the home vacated by Mr. and Mrs. Robert Rodgers who moved to Texas.

The Ladies Auxiliary of the fire company will hold a chicken pie sale on April 5. Orders may be placed at Baker's Store not later than Monday, April 4.

FOA MISSION IN LAOS WAS RARE EXPERIENCE

WASHINGTON — For more than a year Nan Mackay, christened Agnes Isabella, has lived in a house on stilts and dined on a fare of buffalo meat, boiled chicken and canned foods that cost a dollar a tin.

Home on leave from Laos, where for months she served as sole representative for the Foreign Operations Administration, Miss Mackay had flown to the little country with some survey groups.

"When it came time to leave the mission chief asked me to stay on a few more days," Miss Mackay told me. "I stayed a year."

The FOA now has a mission in Laos, as well as in Cambodia and Vietnam. Charles Yost has been appointed American minister and is there with his wife and two children, but until recently Miss Mackay was the only American woman. Her job was to act as guide, interpreter and hostess to American aid people; to keep in touch with American aid projects in Laos and handle all correspondence moved on from Saigon.

In addition, she gave English lessons every night except Sunday to Laotians who were coming to the United States under the FOA study program. "Instead of a French-built villa, I lived in a real Laotian house on stilts," Miss Mackay, an attractive young lady, very feminine but practical, explained. "Servants in Laos are hard to come by, and I could only muster up one houseboy whom I had to teach to cook. I taught him how to make buffalo stews, boil chicken and make an occasional batch of spaghetti. I had a jeep to get around in, but I had to do my own driving and marketing. Occasionally, I made trips to Saigon to buy canned foods and some clothes."

Miss Mackay, who is of Scottish descent, was educated in Europe but calls New York her home. She liked the Laotians, who she says are friendly, witty, artistic. There is much social life in the capital with the Thais and French, who make up a great part of the population, doing considerable entertaining. Everywhere she found a great desire to learn more about the United States and many people wanting to come here to study.

In France and Turkey Miss Mackay got her first assignment to work for American aid projects five years ago in Paris. She was sent to Turkey for two years, then to Saigon. She hopes to return to the Far East but while home on accumulated leave she's

Crooked House In S.C. Needs A Crooked Man

CRESCENT BEACH, S. C. (AP) — A house left at a freakish tilt by last October's Hurricane Hazel has been affording a lot of fun here. It's tilted at a 45-degree angle and the perspective from inside is crazy. It's impossible to stand upright because you have to lean 45 degrees to stand at all and glancing overhead is a mistake. A glimpse outside the doorless front doorway shows the ocean apparently running up hill.

Stories of adventures in the crooked house tell of one man who ventured, inside took a few steps, then staggered out and walked at the same angle back to his automobile, tried to crawl in and missed by a good two feet. Two soldiers fell flat when they tried to walk about inside. A woman visitor said her eyes whirled clockwise and her stomach counter-clockwise.

WASHINGTON DID OWN BREWING, WALLPAPERING

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

George Washington believed in doing it himself. In at least two instances he left how-to-do-it instructions in his own handwriting. His directions on how to paper a room and how to make home brew still are available. Although Washington's recipe for beer is not appropriate for modern do-it-yourself fans because of federal and state laws which have been passed since his time, it serves as a reminder that Mount Vernon belonged to an older self-contained economy.

Such big estates made many things for themselves that are now bought in stores. Washington's interest in such operations was indicated when he wrote out the beer recipe. It reads:

"To make a small beer—
"Boil The Hops"
"Take a large sifter full of bran. Hops to your taste—Boil these 3 hours, then strain out 30 gallons into a cooler. Put in 3 gallons molasses while the beer is scalding hot or rather draw the molasses into the cooler and strain the beer on it while boiling hot. Let this stand til it is little more than blood warm. Then put in a quart of yeast. If the weather is very cold cover it over with a blanket and let it work in the cooler 24 hours, then put it into the cask. Leave the bung open until it is almost done working—Bottle it the day it was brewed."

The directions for papering a room read almost as if they had been prepared in a modern suburban residence. Washington wanted to paper the banquet room at Mount Vernon for a dinner in honor of the Marquis de Lafayette.

He ordered wallpaper from France. A very modern touch was injected when he was unable to get a paper hanger in time to do the job before the banquet. And just like today's home owner he did the job himself, helped by his aid-de-camp and Lafayette. Martha Washington, like many wives before and since, bossed the job.

Washington was so pleased with the results that he sat down to record the directions. The Wallpaper Council has found the instructions among some of his old papers. They read:

"If the walls have been white-washed (brush) over the glue. If not—simple and common paste is sufficient without any other mixture, but in either case, the paste must be made of the finest and best flour, free from lumps. Radar Accused Of Setting Off Flashes

RICHMOND, Va. (AP)—Police radar, which has been tossing some costly winks at speeders, briefly became a suspect itself.

A high school student reported a batch of flash bulbs mysteriously went off all at once when a radar-equipped car passed by just as he prepared to take photographs of some classmates. Was radar to blame?

It was the first complaint about the new police radar from anyone but a speeder. So traffic Maj. John G. Hanna ordered an immediate trial. His men tempted the radar beam with flash bulbs from a distance and then in close. Finally the machine was festooned with flashbulbs. Nothing happened.

Still no solution, though, to the mystery of the students' flash bulb

Swans Frozen, Then Freed By Nature

BOYNE CITY, Mich. (AP) — Caught in a surprise cold wave, two swans were frozen into the ice that formed on a mill pond in the Boyne River. While Police Chief Floyd Neville and Conservation Officer Ed Hartnell were preparing for rescue operations, nature took a hand. The sun softened the ice sufficiently for one to break loose. Ten minutes later the other also clambered out. First thing they did when they got to shore was lie down and rest.

FATHER TAKES BLAME

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP) — A Houston father, pleading for his son on trial in federal court for bank embezzling, told the judge:

"This is my fault. The boy grew up in a home where he never heard a kind word."

BOSTON (AP)—State-sponsored schools to teach youngsters safe handling of firearms are popular. The state has established seven more schools, running the total to 13. Some 200 have graduated and received certificates of competency. The object is to eliminate accidental shootings and familiarize youngsters 15 to 18 years old with the danger of mishandling weapons.

DRY COMMENT
SAN ANGELO, Tex. (AP) — The San Angelo Standard-Times got a lot of weighty opinions and long letters when it mailed out questionnaires for a news roundup on West Texas economic conditions. And then there was the one banker who summed up droughty West Texas' troubles in three words: "Too damn dry."

DECATUR HOUSE IS REMINDER OF ANCIENT SOCIETY

WASHINGTON (AP) — Decatur House, across Lafayette Square from the White House, was "a low with lights" just as it was 135 years ago when its first owner, Commodore Stephen Decatur, early naval hero, gave a ball for President Monroe's daughter, Maria.

Instead of arriving by carriage which "clattered up the gravelled road, recently cut through from Pennsylvania Avenue," guests stepped out of sleek limousines which purred up the heavily trafficked paved street. The ladies were in fabulous ball gowns of today instead of Empire gowns. Men not in uniform were in white tie and tails instead of "green and claret frock coats, silk stockings and pumps and ruffled cravats."

The present owner of the mansion, the first private house on Lafayette Square and now the last, is Mrs. Truxton Beale, grand dame of Washington society. Following a custom of more than half a century, she was giving her annual supper party following the colorful White House diplomatic reception.

"Next Door Neighbor" The President's "only next door neighbor" who recently bequeathed her famous house, long termed the "front lobby of the White House" to the National Trust for Historic Preservation as a national memorial, explains in a recent privately printed book about Decatur House:

"No doubt Stephen Decatur, who intended these rooms to serve as a center of social life in Washington, would have been gratified at this continuous fulfillment of his intentions after a lapse of over a century." Mrs. Beale has lived in Decatur House since 1903. It was inherited by her late husband from his father, Gen. Edward F. Beale, who purchased it after the Civil War.

Mrs. Beale has refused to modernize with electricity the great drawing rooms in the second floor, whose elaborate proportions testified that the owner (Decatur) had in mind the function of the house as a center of Washington society. "Gaslight is still used to light the mansion entrance and offers a soft yellow glow with myriads of candles in standing Venetian candelabra, through elec-

Judge Disappointed As Teacher Is Prompt

DOYLESTOWN, Pa. (AP) — Judge Edwin H. Satterthwaite admitted he was disappointed when Laurence H. Eldredge appeared right at the appointed time in court.

During a recess, the judge explained that Eldredge had been his first professor at the University of Pennsylvania law school.

On opening day, Judge Satterthwaite recalled, his train was late and he came in 30 minutes after class started.

"And you," the judge reminded Eldredge, "stopped your lecture and dressed me down something awful. You said a lawyer had to learn to be on time. Yes, you gave me quite a ride."

And, continued Judge Satterthwaite, "when I heard you were coming here today, I was waiting to see what time you came in. If you had been late, . . ."

Man Who Fled From Hitler Likes It Here

ZELIENOPLE, Pa. (AP) — Nearly 30 years ago Karl Müssig was a horticultural student in Germany when Adolf Hitler came to his college to deliver an address. Müssig says he questioned some of Hitler's advice, was rudely told to "sit down and shut up" and promptly decided his future was in America.

In 1928 Müssig got a job as a chauffeur in Pittsburgh. A few years later he came here and opened a floral shop. Soon after he became a greenhouse operator. Now he has four greenhouses, a wife and three children. Last year he visited Germany but he said he has no desire to locate there permanently.

GIRL SPARKLES IN HOMEMADE PARTY SKIRT

By DOROTHY ROE

Associated Press Women's Editor

Any school belle likes to blossom as a glamorous girl at parties. And if she can make a party skirt herself, that makes the whole thing more fun.

A bright idea for young seamstresses is a circular skirt in bright pink felt, decorated with appliqued musical motifs in black and white felt—a bass viol, a saxophone, a drum and assorted musical notes in between.

A felt skirt, local sewing center experts point out, is the simplest thing a beginner can make, because it needs no hemming or seam finishing. It is easy to stitch and almost always comes out right. Here's how to make it:

Choose Pattern
Choose a commercial pattern for a circular felt skirt. You won't even need to seam it down the sides. You'll need 2 yards of 72-inch felt, plus black and white felt scraps for the appliques. If you buy the felt for the appliques, 1/4 yard of each should be ample.

Cut out your circle and the waist section, following the pattern. To insert the zipper, just cut a slit the length of the zipper at the back of the old place and baste the zipper in place, so that it doesn't show when closed. This is simpler than usual, because it is not necessary to turn in the edges of the felt. Stitch along the basting lines.

Apply waistband. If you have a hinged presser foot on your sewing machine, you can pin-baste the waistband to the skirt, stitching right over the pins.

Now for the fun. Draw your musical instrument and note patterns on brown paper and transfer to the black and white felt pieces. You can buy tracing paper and a tracing wheel at sewing centers or notion counters—white paper for the black felt, dark for the white. If you are not good at drawing your designs freehand for the original pattern, you can trace the outlines from a magazine illustration.

Leave Your Margin
When you cut out the designs in felt, leave a margin of about a quarter inch all the way round, so that you can stitch along the transfer lines and later trim the edges after the appliques are stitched on the skirt.

Spread the skirt out flat and arrange the appliques in a pleasant pattern. Then pin them in place. If you have an automatic swing-needle sewing machine, slip in the zigzag fashion, disc and stitch around the design outline with a satin stitch. If your machine is the straight-needle variety, just set it for a close stitch and sew around the guide lines. Cut away excess fabric at the stitching line.

For extra fun, use scraps from the skirt to make a big pink treble clef and stitch it on a white jersey blouse, to complete the outfit.

78 EMBASSIES ARE SCATTERED AROUND CAPITAL

By JANE EADS

WASHINGTON (AP) — "Embassy Row" is not confined to Massachusetts Avenue, as any sightseeing bus driver who has to make a haul around the capital city will tell you. Of the 78 embassies and legations of foreign nations here, only 16 are located on the famous tree-lined avenue, though the offices of nine others are there.

Sixteenth Street, which crosses the avenue, boasts nine, including some of the biggest and most handsome—the beautiful Florentine palace-like embassy of Cuba and the imposing embassies of Mexico, Italy and the Soviet Union.

The somewhat down-at-the-heels Spanish Embassy on Sixteenth now promises to be one of the most elegant in town. The new ambassador, Jose Marie Arelliza and his chic wife, the Countess of Motrico, have asked Archduke Franz Josef, grandson of the late Don Carlos VII, seem to be jive fans these days, the musical motif should be a sure-fire hit.

19th century claimant to the throne of Spain, and his Princess Maria to do the face-lifting and redecorating of the interior. The titled pair are in their own decorating business in New York. The Arellizas, who already have introduced Washington society to a lavish, old-world brand of entertaining, are expected to outdo themselves when the job is completed.

Redecorate Cambodian Embassy
The Cambodian Embassy, also on Sixteenth Street, has been redecorated—by the same Paris firm that is doing the redecorating on hostess Perle Mesta's new Washington residence.

Most imposing structure on Massachusetts Avenue is the British Embassy. The embassy of Japan is one of the most beautiful, while that of Venezuela is among the most modern in style.

Dr. Heinz Krekeler, the German ambassador, has just acquired a new residence, an air-conditioned, 20-bedroom, 9-bathroom, elevator-equipped job on Foxhall Road which his government purchased from Mrs. Arvilla O'Toole, former wife of Rep. Alvin Bentley (R-Mich.).

BILL WOULD LET STATE BUILD, RENT FACTORIES

HARRISBURG (P)—The administration pin-pointed its plan to attract new industry to Pennsylvania Wednesday in legislation before the General Assembly.

A bill introduced in the senate proposed creation of a State Industrial Development Authority with power to build manufacturing plants and rent them to industrial concerns.

The 11-member authority would be financed by a 20 million dollar revolving fund, which would be used in getting new industries started in the state.

The prime objective of the legislation would be to provide jobs in distressed areas, such as the state's hard coal fields.

To ease unemployment creation of the industrial development authority formed the keystone of Gov. George M. Leader's 35 million dollar program to ease unemployment in the state.

Industries located in the state under the plan would have to pay taxes on their plants just like other industries in contrast to tax-free inducements offered by other states.

The authority would have the right to sell an unlimited amount of bonds in building and renting industrial plants in economically distressed areas.

Companion measures were introduced in the House to:

NEW SUB LOGS 3,000 MILES; IS CALLED AMAZING

By ELTON C. FAY

GROTON, Conn. (P)—The skipper of the Nautilus said Wednesday the atomic submarine now has logged more than 3,000 miles, hundreds of them while submerged, and called his ship "revolutionary and amazing" in performance.

Comdr. Eugene P. Wilkinson discussed the Nautilus' record in a prepared statement issued at a news conference.

In the statement, he disclosed that some minor "bugs" had developed during trials, including two small electrical fires during the first dive, and a loose screw on a gear casing.

Wilkinson said that the "builders' trials" of the Nautilus have now been completed and the next procedure is to run a demonstration for the Navy's Board of Inspection and Survey to show that the Nautilus is ready for acceptance by the Navy as a unit of the operating Atlantic Fleet.

Makes 69 Dives
In his statement, Wilkinson said: "During the course of operations and the actual buildings themselves could be put up as collateral to sell bonds.

Although tenants would have to pay all local costs of the building's operation, maintenance, repair and insurance and taxes, the authority itself would be exempt from local taxes when the building is vacant.

Money coming in from rentals to date, the Nautilus has got under way for operations nine separate times for a total of 319 hours and 32 minutes," during which "she had steamed over 3,000 miles.

"She has made a total of 69 dives and spent 92 hours submerged, steaming several hundred miles beneath the surface."

During the Nautilus' first time out on Jan. 17, Wilkinson said, a "smooth beginning was quickly marred when the engineering officer reported a rubbing sound in the starboard turbine."

Investigation showed that a loose screw on a retaining collar was rubbing against a reduction gear casing "and no damage resulted," he said.

Had Two Fires

The skipper said he wanted to emphasize that "all new ships have problems which show up during initial trials."

Then he added: "For example, on our initial dive we had two small electrical fires, one in the snorkel control panel and one in an engine room electrical panel, which were quickly corrected."

The Navy arranged the press visit for a week before publication of the first of two articles written by Wilkinson, a native of Long Beach, Calif., for the Saturday Evening Post. Criticism of this project has resulted in a policy review by the Defense Department which may result in a ban against similar articles in the future.

VISIT LEGISLATURE
HARRISBURG (P)—A group of students from York Springs High School, Adams County, attended Tuesday's session of the House as guests of Rep. Francis Worley (R-Adams).

Laurelton Staff Called "Martyrs"

HARRISBURG (P)—The former superintendent and her assistant at the Laurelton State Village were termed "martyrs" Wednesday for their years of work with mentally defective women.

"This is one of the most depressing jobs that any woman could hold," said Fred W. Maue, Shamokin, president of the Laurelton board of trustees.

Maue testified before a special legislative investigation committee looking into conditions which brought on the resignation of Dr. Effie C. Ireland, superintendent, and Dr. Catherine D. Edgett, her assistant.

The board president told a public hearing that the investigation was inaugurated through his request to Henry Lark, Northumberland County Republican chairman.

Urge Vaccination Against Rabies

HARRISBURG (P)—The state Health Department has urged the vaccination of dogs to protect them against rabies.

Dr. E. J. Witte, head of the Division of Veterinary Public Health, said rabid foxes can easily transmit the disease to hunting dogs and house pets. Rabid foxes, he added, are now being found in southeastern counties.

Dr. Witte noted that 41 cases of rabies have been reported—mostly in Chester and Delaware counties—since Jan. 1. Rabid foxes accounted for 80 per cent of the cases with the remainder in dogs, cats and cattle, records showed.

Phosphorus needs are critical on more than half of Ohio's farms, an Ohio State University study indicates.

PREMIER FAURE WILL RECEIVE SPECIAL POWER

PARIS (AP)—The National Assembly gave Premier Edgar Faure special powers Wednesday to work out economic and financial reforms, including revamping the tax collection system. The vote was 329-265.

The Premier obtained the powers, which would permit the government to decree laws without Assembly approval, only after important concessions to the parliamentary backers of tax reform.

Poulade's movement of small businessmen and shopkeepers has been among the most insistent in demanding tax reforms. Finance Minister Pierre Pflimlin told the deputies that only "prudent and progressive" changes would be made in the tax system. But he said they would be sufficient to give relief to small shopkeepers and artisans.

Business Is Crippled
The government hopes at the same time to build up the economically maladjusted areas in the southwestern part of the country, where Poulade has his greatest strength. Business in the largely agricultural area has been crippled by the drift of farm workers to industrial centers.

One of the last major points to be settled was on penalties for "acts, menaces or concerted maneuvers" against the payment of taxes. Members of Poulade's movement have resisted by force attempts to tax collectors to examine their books.

The government proposed abolishing a law enacted last August—when Premier Pierre Mendes-France was given similar special powers—and amending other existing statutes on tax penalties. It suggested punishment including six months to a year in jail.

Poulade's supporters held out for a milder penalty. An agreement was worked out providing for one to six months imprisonment for "collective opposition" to payment of taxes.

ADVERTISE IN THE TIMES

Would Use Hospital For Cerebral Palsy

HARRISBURG (AP)—The Locust Mountain State Hospital at Shenandoah, Schuylkill County, would become a special institution for cerebral palsy patients under legislation submitted to the House.

Three Republican assemblymen sponsored companion bills which would delete the institution from the list of general hospitals. It would be devoted exclusively to the training, care and maintenance of persons stricken with cerebral palsy who are not mentally retarded.

The sponsors are Reps. Wilbur H. Hamilton (Phila.), H. Franklin Kehler (Bucks) and Wayne M. Breish (Schuylkill).

TURNPIKE MEN DISCUSS SAFETY

HARRISBURG (AP)—The Interstate Safety Committee of Pennsylvania, New Jersey, New York and Ohio opened a two-day conference Wednesday to discuss safety regulations for commercial vehicles.

Primary objective of the session, a spokesman said, is to draw up a uniform code for rear lighting on commercial vehicles. H. W. Morgan, safety director for the Pennsylvania Turnpike Commission, said rear-end collisions accounted for 38.2 per cent of all daytime accidents on the turnpike while at night the figure rose to 42.9 per cent.

Urges Truck Conformance
The committee urged truck owners to conform with rear lighting and bumper requirements as set up by the Interstate Commerce Commission.

The conference is sponsored by Morgan; Russell S. Deetz, traffic and safety engineer for the Ohio Turnpike Commission; Edmund B. Ricker, traffic engineer for the New Jersey Turnpike Authority; and Arnold G. Fisch, traffic and safety engineer for the New York Thruway Authority.

Power production in Sweden has doubled twice since 1934 and now totals 23,700,000,000 kilowatt hours a year.

NEW SALES TAX BILL IS HIGH

HARRISBURG (AP)—A bill to continue the state's sales tax at a higher rate went to committee in the Democratic-controlled House today — probably to stay there since Gov. George M. Leader is pledged to let that levy expire on Aug. 31.

The measure was introduced in the House Tuesday by Rep. Earl E. Hewitt (R—Indiana) sponsor of the present one-per cent sales tax, which was imposed in 1953 by Republican votes for a two year period.

Rep. Charles C. Smith said he had not seen Hewitt's bill, in emphasizing it did not have party support.

Hewitt's bill would impose a two per cent levy, without the present exemption on clothing. It would exempt purchases under 10 cents.

"In view of the governor's speech yesterday, I think this is the only fair way to solve the state's financial problems," Hewitt told a reporter.

He referred to Leader's address to the Legislature laying down a $5 million dollar industrial development program.

Wax candles probably are of Phoenician origin.

BILL OUTLAW MINING WHICH CAUSES CAVEINS

HARRISBURG (AP)—An anthracite coal mining bill that causes caveins would be outlawed by a bill before the House.

A proposal submitted by Rep. Frank Wallace (D—Luzerne) on Tuesday would require mine owners to file with officials of the city where the mine is located detailed maps of the mines. They would include every pillar of coal left beneath the surface as a means of underground support. Violators could be found guilty of a misdemeanor and fined up to $5,000 or imprisoned for one year.

Backs Participation In Delaware Project

HARRISBURG (AP)—Pennsylvania participation in a Delaware Valley water conservation pact was a step nearer today after an administration-sponsored proposal gained House committee approval.

The suggested legislation, already passed by the New Jersey Legislature, was sent to the floor of the House Tuesday by the State Government Committee. The move came just one day after Gov. George M. Leader urged quick legislative action.

A 60 million dollar impounding dam at Wallpack Bend, Pike County, and a diversion dam near Yardley in Bucks County is provided for in the program. New Jersey would be authorized to remove 100 million gallons of water a day from the river.

Pennsylvania must approve the two-state pact by July 1 for it to become effective.

Another new mining proposal would prohibit blasting until the mine roof and sides are properly secured by props.

A third mining bill would allow the state Mines Department to spend two million dollars in matching funds to reconstruct and repair schools, churches and homes damaged by subsidence caused by coal mining.

Other new House bills would: Require inspection of anthracite coal mines employing more than five persons at least once every three months instead of once every six months — Michael J. Needham (D—Lackawanna), James Musto (D—Luzerne), Joseph G. Wargo (D—Lackawanna) and Frank Wallace (D—Luzerne).

Appropriate $25,000 for creation of a state anthracite mine law study commission charged with investigating existing laws relating to anthracite—Marion L. Munley (D—Lackawanna), Needham Wallace, Wargo and Musto.

Be suspension of driving privileges on a point system for offenses and violations against the motor code—Ruth S. Donahue (R—Clinton), Arthur George (R—Cumberland), W. Mack Guthrie (R—Armstrong), and Edwin C. Ewing (R—Allegheny). Require payment of railroad employees weekly on or before Thursday for the seven days ending on Tuesday of the preceding week—Marion L. Munley and John J. Welsh (D—Phila.).

Appropriate $30,000 for the State Aeronautics Commission to buy Civil Air Patrol equipment—Van D. Yetter (D—Monroe), Samuel W. Frank (D—Lehigh), William A. Moran (D—Allegheny).

Ike Says War Talk Does Not Promote The Cause Of Peace

By MARVIN L. ARROWSMITH
WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower spoke out Wednesday against too much speculation and talk about war. He said it doesn't serve the cause of peace.

Eisenhower also said at a news conference that he has no information indicating the Chinese Reds plan to launch an attack soon on the Nationalist islands of Quemoy and Matsu.

The President's remarks carried an implied rebuke to Adm. Robert B. Carney, chief of naval operations. Carney has been identified as the source of a prediction, given to newsmen last week, that the Communists would start striking at Quemoy and the Matsus around April 15.

He Won't Give Reprimand
Asked specifically if Carney would be reprimanded, Eisenhower said not by him.

Eisenhower said he himself was not ruling out the possibility of an attack in mid-April. But, he said, if anyone has information pointing clearly to such an attack, that person must have more information than the President of the United States.

At the outset of the conference, a reporter told Eisenhower that Carney had been quoted as saying the Communists might attack Quemoy and Matsu next month. The newsmen went on to say he understood the President felt otherwise and didn't like Carney's expressing the view which he did.

No Crystal Balls
Eisenhower replied that no one possesses a crystal ball to determine the chances for war. He said that for anyone to prophesy when war might break out is to assume an accuracy of information which never yet has been attained.

Eisenhower said that if he were going to make any comment on the situation it would be to say he does not believe the peace of the world would be served by talking too much in terms of war.

Under other questioning, Eisenhower again declined to shed any light on whether the United States might go to the defense of the two Nationalist offshore islands if he Reds do attack them.

Official U.S. policy, as expressed in a resolution passed by Congress earlier this year, gives the President authority to take whatever steps are necessary for defense of the main Nationalist bastion of Formosa and the nearby Pescadores.

The news conference also dealt with these other matters:

BIG FOUR CONFERENCE—Eisenhower said he wanted to reiterate that the United States is ready to do anything to ease world tension. He added, however, that so far as any top-level conference of the Western powers with Russia is concerned there would be many dangers involved in holding a conference without a specific list of topics to be covered.

Reminded that Secretary of State Dulles said Tuesday that preparation for a Big Four conference might take months, Eisenhower remarked that was not an easy matter to discuss.

Eisenhower also said there is the question of whether West Germany should be invited to the conference.

How, he asked, could you talk about Germany unless Germany were represented? And if you brought in one country, should you bring in others, and where would you draw the line?

PARIS AGREEMENTS—The President said he wanted to express his gratification over ratification of the Paris agreements by both Italy and France. He said he couldn't possibly exaggerate in expressing his satisfaction. He is delighted, the President added.

BIPARTISAN TALKS—Noting that he was meeting at the White House Wednesday with Democratic and Republican leaders of the House and with Senate leaders of both parties today, the President said the discussions would deal with the world situation generally.

He added that the meetings were arranged, starting a couple of weeks ago, with no specific purpose in mind.

POLITICS—Eisenhower shrugged off with a laugh an attempt to find out whether he may say at the time of the New Hampshire primary next March whether he plans to seek a second term. A reporter recalled that Eisenhower recently suggested a year's moratorium on the matter of whether he will run, but the newsmen nevertheless asked whether the President might be in a mood to speak out at the time of the primary.

With a chuckle, the President said he had never thought of the New Hampshire primary, but the newsmen had jogged his memory. It was in the 1952 New Hampshire primary that Eisenhower got an early big boost toward winning the GOP nomination.

FARM—Eisenhower said he does not believe the administration's new flexible farm price support program has been responsible for any decline in farm prices. He said the decline in recent years took place under the old rigid price support program. He added that the new flexible plan, which became effective at the start of this year, has not been in operation long enough to reflect any change in farm prices.

Doesn't Like Muddling
MUDSLINGING—Eisenhower declared he is against any muddling in public life. He made that remark when told that Sens. Carlson (R-Kan.) and Smathers (D-Fla.)

Measure Is Aimed At Curbing Trustees

HARRISBURG (AP)—Trustees of state Welfare Department institutions would be stripped of authority and reduced to an advisory capacity under a plan that has received House committee approval.

A bipartisan measure, reported to the floor Tuesday by the Welfare Committee, would give the Welfare Department all the duties now vested in boards of trustees. In addition it would charge trustees with recommending changes, advising and assisting institution superintendents. A 30-member advisory council on mental health within the department is provided for in the bill.

had suggested there be an end to any muddling. The reporter did not say what prompted the suggestion by the senators.

Carlson and Smathers made the suggestion on a TV show last night. They did not connect it with any particular incident, but their remarks followed a summary by commentator John Daly of the controversy over criticisms of Eisenhower by Sen. Neely (D-WVa.).

Neely glibbed at the President's golfing and fishing in a speech before the OTO United Auto Workers in Cleveland Monday. He also said Eisenhower tried to "parade his religion," nothing that newspapers frequently published pictures of the President attending church.

Several Republican senators hit back at what they called Neely's trying to inject religion into politics.

Lentils are considered the food of the poor in most countries and they are often rejected when other food is available.

EXTEND CONGRATULATIONS

HARRISBURG (AP)—The House is requested to extend its congratulations to Mrs. Lulu Hall Pratt of Coatesville in a new resolution before the Rules Committee.

Mrs. Pratt was recently named Pennsylvania Mother of the Year. A measure submitted by Rep. William E. Brown (R-Chester) yesterday said her "exemplary participation in and leadership of civic and community affairs in addition to her chosen career as a mother and housewife has not only earned her this richly deserved honor but the love and admiration of her community."

Ten American League games were decided by 1-0 scores in 1954. Three of these wins were the efforts of Chicago White Sox hurlers Don Johnson, Virgil Trucks and Jack Harshman.

Compromise Unemployment Compensation Bill Before Governor "In Nick Of Time"

HARRISBURG (P)—The administration's unemployment compensation program reached Gov. George M. Leader's desk in the form of a compromise Wednesday.

It arrived less than 48 hours before expiration which could have meant sharply reduced jobless benefits April 1 instead of a $5 a week boost unemployed workers now would get after May 1.

Almost simultaneously, the governor received for signature another major administration plan giving him wide powers of government reorganization.

The unemployment compensation and government reorganization measures were finally passed by both the House and Senate Tuesday.

Compromises in the form of concessions to Republican opponents were incorporated in joint House-Senate conference reports acted on by both branches.

Increase Benefits
The unemployment compensation bill calls for increasing maximum weekly benefits from $30 a week to $35 and the number of compensable weeks from 26 to 30.

Payroll taxes for employers would go up from an average of 1.1 per cent paid last year to an average of 1.63 per cent for 1955. The rates, retroactive to last Jan. 1, would range from eight-tenths of one per cent to 2.7 per cent, costing employers about 137½ million dollars this year.

The government reorganization measure was introduced by the administration last January as House Bill No. 1.

As finally passed, it would permit the governor to submit a reorganization plan involving agencies at less than the department level. If not approved or disapproved within 30 days, it would go into effect automatically.

Leader Has New Plan

Leader is expected to offer a plan removing the state Planning Board from the Commerce Department and otherwise revamping the department as his first reshuffling suggestion.

The lawmakers, after originally deciding to take a recess extending from today to April 13, now have pushed the date for their return back to April 12. The original date conflicted with a convention of educators which previously reserved most hotel rooms.

Reps. Charles C. Smith and Albert W. Johnson, House Republican leader and assistant leader called on the Legislature to authorize a survey of the jobless benefits law. "The House of Representatives does not possess independent and impartial experts to determine the effect of the various changes in benefits and rates," said their resolution.

Reuther Re-Named For His 6th Term

CLEVELAND (P)—Walter Reuther has been elected to his sixth straight term as president of the CIO United Auto Workers Union after a 25-minute demonstration. He was unopposed.

Cheering and shouting delegates waved thousands of colored balloons and placards, and tossed leaflets while a band blared in a tribute to Reuther. The placards carried the slogan "On Our Way—Steady Work, Steady Pay" in behalf of Reuther's current demand on the auto industry for a guaranteed annual wage.

BABY BUGGIES COPY NEW CARS

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The new crop of 1955 model baby carriages is going in for three-tone color jobs and modern streamlining as advanced as those exhibited by the automobile manufacturers.

Those pint-size sedans and convertibles are being shown in such color combinations as navy, light blue and ivory and other flashy combinations calculated to bring pride to the hearts of both baby and parents.

Baby carriage manufacturers rival the sales talk of the automobile salesmen in their comments about chassis construction, brakes, luxurious accessories and special safety features.

DON'T OVERLOOK WIRING WHEN RENTING HOUSE

By VIVIAN BROWN

AP Newsfeatures Writer

If you are thinking of renting an apartment or a house in this electrical age you had better investigate the wiring.

Men are aware of the pitfalls of overloading electric circuits. But don't think they'll ever pass on the word to the little woman who is kitchen mechanic all day long. Husbands are likely to believe their little dears are too dainty for engineering problems.

Most women who are custodians of this home equipment don't even know how to change a fuse.

One young housewife who planned a dinner for some gourmet friends spend days drooling over menu preparations and then at the crucial moment blew her apartment fuses. She had so many things cooking that she put her entire apartment out bumps in rough sidewalks, four-wheel brakes, no-tip stand, free wheeling, precision ball bearings and scientific balance.

The European sports car influence can be detected in wire wheels, custom hoods with braid trim and polished bone handles. But the triple chrome plating and baked-enamel finishes are pure Detroit.

One development in which baby carriages are ahead of the automobile is chlorophyll treatment of the interior.

house in the dark for an hour. She had an electric broiler, waffle iron, percolator, stove, dishwasher and garbage disposal juicing away while in the living room the air conditioner and television set were on.

Appliances Troublesome

That is one of the things that can happen when circuits are overloaded. A recent survey by a New York City utility company showed that more than 40 per cent of apartment dwellers were reporting that home appliances were getting difficult to cope with.

You may spot impending difficulty by observing lights flickering and dimming, appliances operating more slowly or not as well as they should, radio volume dropping, toasters and other appliances warming up slowly. Frequent blowing of fuses or tripping circuit breakers are signs worth observing.

One way to get a general idea of the wiring capacity of your house is to look at wires leading from the pole in the street to the side of your house. Two wires indicate a 115 volt power supply, generally run through 30 ampere fuses or circuit breakers with a total capacity of 3,450 watts, according to wiring experts.

Determine Fuse Size

You can determine fuse size by unscrewing top fuses on the panel board in the basement where the wires enter the house, and reading the number stamped on the brass base. To find wattage, multiply this figure by 115. Thirty ampere main fuses will permit the use of a refrigerator, washer, some electrical housewares, a television set, lighting fixtures and floor lamps.

Three wires running into the house mean that a 230 volt power supply is available. If these are provided with 60 ampere fuses or circuit breakers, the electrical capacity is 13,800 watts. You can use all the equipment okayed for the 30 ampere main fuses above plus an electric range, water heater, automatic freezer, automatic washer, additional electric appliances, more portable light fixtures, more lamps.

The three-wire circuit with 100 ampere capacity give you 23,000 watts to draw from. This system is

Absentee Voting Bill Gets Committee OK

HARRISBURG (P)—The administration's plan to amend the state constitution so that absentee voters considered adequate for today's electrical requirements, say engineers. It supports all the items mentioned beforehand plus a dishwasher-sink unit, garbage disposal unit, laundry drier, 3-horsepower air conditioning unit, more housewares, auxiliary house heating, power tools and additional lighting equipment.

ing would be allowed is ready for consideration of the House after receiving committee approval.

The House Elections Committee Tuesday sent to the floor a bill which provides that any qualified voter absent from the state or county of his residence because of business would be allowed to cast a ballot. Before becoming effective the constitutional amendment must be passed by the House itself, the Senate, and the next Legislature as well as a referendum.

Another measure winning committee approval Tuesday would permit the free issuance of licenses to seeing-eye dogs.
